U.S. PLANS TO SCRAP LOTTERY SYSTEM TO SELECT H-1B VISAS

The Trump administration has proposed to introduce a wage level-based selection process for H-1B work visas

MOVE TO PROTECT AMERICAN WORKERS' PAY

Replacing computerised draw will help counter the downward pressure on the wages of American workers due to influx of relatively lower paid H-1B visa holders, the Department of Homeland Security said. H-1B, the most sought after among Indian IT professionals, is a non-immigrant visa that allows US firms to employ foreign workers in speciality occupations that need expertise | P9

WILL INCENTIVISE EMPLOYERS TO PAY MORE

- If finalised as proposed, the new selection process will incentivise employers to offer higher wages. DHS says this is a better way to allocate H-1Bs when demand exceeds supply
- The proposals have been published in the Federal Register, but their implementation may hinge on the outcome of the US polls

K'taka joins BCG vaccine trials against Covid-19

Four medical institutes are conducting studies on its efficacy among elders

RANJANI MADHAVAN @ Bengaluru

THERE may be a ray of hope in protecting the most vulnerable section of society, the elderly, from the dreaded Sars-CoV-2 virus which is responsible for the Covid-19 pandemic.

Following the Indian Council of Medical Research's (ICMR) thumbs up that the Bacillus Calmette-Guerin (BCG) vaccine was effective in shielding the elderly against Covid, medical institutes in Bengaluru and Mysuru are undertaking studies to test its efficacy.

Trials of the BCG vaccine will be conducted at Raja Rajeshwari Medical College and Hospital (RRMCH) and Narayana Health, in Bengaluru, and Mysore Medical College & Research Institute (MMCRI) and JSS Academy of Higher Education and Research (where the trials are already on) in Mysuru.

The BCG vaccine is typically used against Tuberculosis (TB) and mandatorily given to children in India. Apart from preventing TB, it also prevents many respiratory illnesses. The BCG vaccines were administered in India as early as 1948, and, on Thursday, an ICMR study concluded that it was effective in the elderly against Covid-19. As part of the trials, which have already been approved by ICMR, the volunteers — all elderly citizens aged 60-80 years and free from Covid-19 and TB — will be administered a booster dose of BCG vaccine at RRMCH. Over the next nine months, the participants will be monitored for presence of antibodies in their blood and how they respond. P3

OPPOSITION SLAMS PINARAYI GOVT

The Opposition Congress and BJP on Thursday lashed out at Kerala's LDF government over the arrest of CPI(M) state chief Kodiyeri Balakrishnan's son Bineesh by the Enforcement Directorate, alleging that anti-national activities were being carried out under the Left Front rule in the state.

ED ARRESTS KERALA CPM CHIEF'S SON IN BENGALURU DRUGS CASE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru / Kochi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday arrested CPM state secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan's son Bineesh Kodiyeri in Bengaluru for his alleged involvement in a drug racket. Bineesh was booked under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, and sent to ED custody for four days.

Sources said Bineesh was arrested after gathering evidence about alleged financial dealings between him and Mohammed Anoop, who was earlier arrested in a narcotics seizure case. Bineesh had appeared before the ED officials for questioning on October 6. He was again summoned on Thursday. He arrived at the ED office in Shanthinagar at 11 am and, after nearly five hours of questioning, his arrest was recorded. The arrest added to the discomfiture of the Left Front government in Kerala, already reeling under the impact of the gold smuggling case. The back-to-back arrests of senior bureaucrat M Sivasankar on Wednesday and Bineesh on Thursday have dealt a serious blow to the Pinarayi Vijayan government's image in the last days of its tenure.

In August, the Narcotics Control Bureau's (NCB) Bengaluru zonal unit had seized a huge stash of MDMA (Ecstasy pills) and LSD blots during raids and arrested Anoop along with two others -- Anikha D and R Ravindran. The NCB probe had revealed financial transactions between Anoop and Bineesh, and the ED stepped into the investigation.

The ED had grilled Anoop in September and he had reportedly admitted that Bineesh had paid him ₹50 lakh for his restaurant business in Kammanahalli in East Bengaluru. The agency registered a case to investigate the money trail between Anoop and Bineesh.

FRANCE HORROR

3 knifed to death in church terror attack

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

IN another lone-wolf jihadist attack in France, a man armed with a knife killed three persons at a church on Thursday, prompting global outrage. This was the third such attack in two months in the country since the opening of a terror trial into the mass murder at satirical newspaper Charlie Hebdo's office in Paris in 2015.

Though the assailant at the Notre Dame Church in the city of Nice was wounded by police bullets, "he cried 'Allah Akbar!' over and over," Mayor Christian Estrosi later claimed. Less than two weeks ago, an assailant decapitated a French school teacher who showed caricatures of the Prophet for a class on free speech. There were further worries as a Saudi Arabian citizen wounded a guard in a knife attack at the French consulate in Jeddah. Also, an Afghan national armed with a long knife was arrested in Lyon as he was about to board a tram.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi joined global leaders in condemning the attack, adding India stands with France in its fight against terror. But Malaysia's Mahathir Mohamad was the odd man out as he said Muslims had a right "to kill millions of French people". P12

LTC cash voucher scheme for all now

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

IN a bid to boost consumption, the Centre on Thursday extended the I-T exemption available under the LTC cash voucher scheme to employees of state governments, state-owned enterprises and the private sector as well.

"The payment of cash allowance, subject to a maximum of ₹36,000 per person as Deemed LTC fare per person (Round Trip) to non-Central Government employees, shall be allowed income-tax exemption," a statement frpm the Finance Ministry read.

To avail the scheme, one has to spend three times the value of the deemed LTC fare on goods or services carrying a GST rate of 12% or more, and obtain a voucher indicating the GST number and the amount paid. The payment must be done digitally between October 12, 2020, and March 31, 2021.

Those who have exercised the option to pay income tax under concessional tax regime under Section 115BAC of the Income-tax Act, 1961 will not be entitled for this exemption.

HOW IT WORKS

If the deemed LTC fare is ₹80,000, then one has to spend ₹2.4 lakh on specified goods / services to avail the tax benefit under the scheme

RPO to ask J&K police to speed up verification

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

NATIVES of Jammu & Kashmir who have migrated to Karnataka are forced to wait a long time for their passports. Reason: police verification process from their home town takes a good number of months to be completed.

This is one of the issues that the Regional Passport Office is attempting to address in the ongoing Vigilance Awareness Week here.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Bharath Kumar Kuthati, Regional Passport Officer, Bengaluru, said, "The Vigilance Awareness Week is an occasion for us to improve on our processes and functioning. We found that a fair number of passport applications of natives of Jammu & Kashmir have been pending due to non-receipt of police verification reports. It takes anywhere between six months and even a year for the reports to reach us."

The RPO has decided to approach the J & K police to speed up the verification process, he said. "It will be done in coordination with our passport office there," he added.

While police verification is permitted after receipt of passports in case of Tatkal applications and reapplication of a fresh passport before the expiry of an existing one in case there is not much difference in the individual's appearance, the same does not apply for residents of J & K as well as Nagaland. "Passport can only be issued after a police verification report for them," Kuthati said.

On other improvements effected here, he said that only around 30 per cent of those who send in their applications in connection with complications pertaining to their passports are called for a personal interview to the Koramangala office. "We want to minimize human interaction during the Covid times. Hence, our staffers make video calls," he said.

He said that from April to October 15 this year, 88,139 passports have been issued by the office. This is almost one-fifth of those issued in the corresponding period last year.

Mask rule for lone car drivers: Questions linger

Palike chief seeks clarity on whether single occupants need to wear facial covering

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN the wake of the rising criticism over the recent notification that solo car drivers too should wear masks even with their windows rolled up, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad has written to the health department seeking clarification.

In the letter, a copy of which is with The New Indian Express, the Commissioner has written to Health and Family Welfare Department Additional Chief Secretary Jawaid Akhtar questioning whether a person driving alone in a four-wheeler with windows closed, and a single rider on a two-wheeler should wear a mask.

Prasad told TNIE, "So far, our orders have not yet been withdrawn. There was no earlier order that people in these two categories need not wear masks. The directions have been issued for public safety. After a clarification is obtained from the Health Department, the orders will be revised."

The Health officials, meanwhile, have sent the letter from Prasad to the technical committee for review. "The committee comprises of doctors and health experts. After they review the notification and the letter, a final decision will be taken," Pankaj Kumar Pandey, Commissioner, Health and Family Welfare Department said.

Another senior health department official said, "Earlier in August, there was confusion on who should wear mask and when. Then, it was clarified that those driving alone in four-wheelers with windows rolled up need not wear masks. We have no idea why the BBMP Commissioner has issued these orders now. We were not consulted before issuing the notification. There is no harm in wearing a mask for safety, but logically, people are right in their objection as the person is alone in a closed environment."

Citizens and Marshals, in the meantime, are confused. They point that there is no clarity on ground. Some also said that there is lack of coordination and communication between officials. "Since there is confusion among government officials, there is confusion on the ground and citizens do not know what to do. If an order is issued, the government should stick to it. Or else, such decisions should not be made in haste," said Sandeep M, a citizen who was penalised by a Marshal for not wearing a mask.

Elderly in RR Nagar can vote from home

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad, who is also election officer, on Thursday said that in the wake of the pandemic, senior citizens and physically challenged persons residing in RR Nagar Assembly constituency need not come to polling booths to cast their votes. Instead, a team of polling officials, along the police, will go to their doorstep asking them to cast their secret ballot in a sealed envelope. This exercise will be carried out over three days starting Thursday.

He said a list of such people has been prepared and there are around 488 elderly and 33 physically challenged people. They had requested that a special provision be made so that they do not miss out on their right to vote. Prasad explained that the entire process of casting the vote will be videographed and an acknowledgment will also be given to the voters.

Also, a list of Covid-19 patients, primary and secondary contacts and those who have given their samples for testing is also being prepared. They will be brought to the polling booth in ambulances to cast their vote. As of October 28, there are 317 from the constituency in hospital, 847 in home isolation and 18 in Covid Care Centres.

Prasad said, "The control room will call up the Covid patients and the others asking them if they want to cast their vote. If they agree, an ambulance with PPE will be sent to their doorstep at 3.30 pm. They will be brought to their designated polling booth and given time between 5 pm and 6 pm to cast their vote, after which they will be dropped back. There are already 30 ambulances in RR Nagar constituency. On the day of voting, more ambulances from east, west and south zones will be deployed."

He said voters will be given a glove to be worn on the right hand and the indelible ink will be marked on the left hand. The body temperature of voters will be checked at the entry point and if a person has high temperature, he will be given a slip and sent back, asking him vote only between 5 pm and 6pm.

So far, Rs 127 lakh in cash and 109 litres of liquor have been seized in the constituency for violation of the Model Code of Conduct.

LONG HOLIDAY

The long weekend will have an impact on the voter turnout in RR Nagar constituency, more so because a holiday has ben declared for voters on Monday. The Election Commission officials and politicians are now worried that the long holiday of five days may lead to poor voter turnout.

BTC season starts, no bets, spectators

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

AFTER lack of competitive action for the last six months or so, the Bangalore Turf Club (BTC) will kick off proceedings with their winter season from Sunday amidst a new normal. Besides the pandemic protocols being in place, no spectators will be allowed at the venue as well. Also, betting will be absent in the first two race days — on November 1 and 7 — as the online application, which will be used for betting, may only be made functional from November 14.

As per the original schedule, the other three race days are November 14, 21 and 28. It was only in July that the state government granted BTC the permission to conduct online betting.

"The online betting is still under process. The necessary infrastructure is getting ready for the online app and I believe the app should be ready for commercial use on November 14," said BTC managing committee member Harimohan Naidu.

As of now, stakeholders like trainers, whose horses are running on the day, and their staff will be allowed at the venue. However, a decision regarding the presence of owners of the horses could be finalised by Friday.

If organizing races without betting is a challenge for BTC, jockeys have a challenge of their own. Experienced BTC trainer Padmanabhan feels that the fitness of the jockeys will be tested as they started training only last month.

"The challenge now for the jockeys is to be very fit. They have to be fitter than the horses. The horses have had some sort of exercise during the lockdown period. It might not have been the same for jockeys, and some of them might have added weight due to their change in diet and lack of exercise," he said.

Grievances meet sees poor response

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE first online grievances meeting organised by the Regional Passport Office in Bengaluru on Thursday from 11 am to 12 noon had poor participation. A total of 10 among the 12 who registered for participation took part.

The small group expressed satisfaction at this step and wanted more such meetings to be held during the Covid period, said Regional Passport Officer Bharath Kutati. Grievances varied with those pertaining to old passports dominating.

When a new passport application is submitted, details on the expired old passport need to be furnished. One such query – What happens if the old passport details had been discarded or forgotten? An FIR needs to be filed about the missing old passport and this needs to be submitted along with the application for the new passport, the RPO said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

30th October : I was reading some research recently which argued that human beings are really holograms - no more than collections of particles of light projected forward in time from the creation of the universe. I know this may sound strange to some, but not so much to those who understand certain of the world's great sacred texts, such as the Vedas, of course.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Your memories, even completely sub-conscious, exert an extraordinarily powerful influence on your behaviour. You should therefore understand that you are in danger of blaming someone not because of what they are doing now, but because of what someone else did a long time ago.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There are two answers to a current question - 'yes or no'! The moment you consider 'maybe' as a possible option, you may relieve the emotional tension, but you'll also miss the chance for a truly staggering and intense encounter. In the final analysis, it's up to you.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
A financial shock is a possibility, although there is no indication that it need be unpleasant. Indeed, if you are ready for some fancy footwork you can turn a likely deficit into a handsome profit. You might even earn brownie points in a close relationship.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You must have all your wits about you. It is awfully tempting to imagine that you can get what you want merely by shouting louder than anyone else. It would be better to be very careful, considerate and sympathetic to others. And that means that you might have to put your own interests second.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It's a sensitive day, perhaps too sensitive. Too many people are liable to take offence where none is intended, and you should therefore watch what you say. You may continue to do your bit for a charitable cause, contributing to the general welfare. Good for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
If you have any doubts or questions, listen to partners. Even though they may speak in riddles, there is a sort of sense in what they have to say. You may forget the facts and look for the inner meaning, if only to give yourself time to sort out what you want.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may expend a great deal of effort trying to keep the peace, but at times like this you may be right to give up and allow people and situations to swing to extremes. Only then will you discover whether other people's promises can be really be trusted.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your beliefs, thoughts and feelings seem to be coming together. In love you are extremely highly-motivated, and likely to get exactly what you want. Travel, both long-distance and close at hand, could provide the trigger which changes your life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You must come to terms with enforced changes. You should also realise that you have steered yourself into a situation which now seems to be out of your control. But simple logic dictates that if you got yourself in, you can get yourself out. So get on with it!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It wouldn't take much for you to throw in the towel, and nobody would blame you. However, if you are typical of your sign, you'll do the right thing and persist. Once you're through current uncertainty you'll see that the effort was worth it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Domestic and family expenditure may add to your cares, but in general a bout of extravagance offers you a way of forgetting life's burdens. Travel is also still looking like a good means of escape. But it might be an emotional journey you're embarking on, rather than a physical one.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You should watch your financial situation very closely indeed. You will very soon receive a promising offer, but all is not what it seems. In this, and in all matters, you must examine the small print again and again until you have understood every nuance.

Festival season sets in, fear of surge in cases up

Hospitals seeing patients with history of visiting markets and commercial areas

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

JUST when Karnataka was seeing a consistent dip in Covid-19 numbers, the recent rush in markets, temples and commercial spaces has resulted in symptoms showing up among those who were not infected. This, after several warnings from the State government.

Government and private hospitals in the city are seeing patients with a history of visiting markets for festive shopping. However, the authorities maintain that it is too early to say if there has been an increase in Covid cases.

"We have been seeing a few patients with symptoms. However, we are not sure if this can be attributed so early to a post-festive effect. We will have to wait for some more days," explained a senior doctor from Victoria Hospital.

> Increase in cases was expected. However, social distancing and wearing of masks was ignored to a large extent. This could be dangerous for the city
> Epidemiologist

It may be noted that immediately after the Varamahalakshmi and Ganesha festivals, there was a surge in Covid cases in the entire state. "Increase in cases was expected, and that was the reason why the central government also issued orders. However, social distancing and wearing of masks was ignored to a large extent, especially in market areas. This could be dangerous for the city," explained a senior epidemiologist.

Meanwhile, some private hospitals in South Bengaluru have stated that they have patients who had visited K R Market and Sarakki market for festival shopping, and ended up with high fever, cold and cough. "Their samples were taken for testing. We found two positive patients and there are a few patients whose family members have also come down with symptoms. We are testing them too," said Dr Gopikrishna, physician with a private hospital in South Bengaluru.

However, some government hospitals like Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Chest Diseases (RGICD), Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospital and Charaka Hospital have not seen an increase in cases, post festival. "We have so far not seen any such trend or cases with history of visit to markets. We have to wait and watch. In fact, numbers have been decreasing in the past 10 days," said Dr Manoj Kumar, Director, Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospital.

With the festive season, people had become highly complacent, with a false sense of confidence that they were safe from Covid. It may be noted that post-festival season had seen a rise in cases in Delhi, Kerala and Andhra Pradesh.

Special scar clinics for skin trauma opened

IFFATH FATHIMA @Bengaluru

NON-Invasive Ventilation (NIV), used in the treatment of acute respiratory failure and provided through a facial mask, is known to leave behind unhappy scars. Though it is used on severely-infected Covid patients, long use of NIV leads to skin damage, ulcers and conjunctivitis, and many patients are visiting hospitals to treat NIV scars. Hospitals are also opening special scar clinics.

A 44-year-old woman, with multiple comorbidities, was on NIV for an extended period without any formal monitoring of the underlying skin. This resulted in a Grade II pressure ulcer, with broken skin and an open wound or pus-filled blister. The area turned red and swollen, and was very painful, forcing the patient to visit a private hospital. Despite the rim of the mask having a silicone cushion, pressure sores develop, especially on the bony prominences such as the bridge of the nose, forehead and cheeks.

The main challenge is among people with sensitive skin and Fitzpatrick skin type 3 to 6, as these marks or scars tend to pigment, leading to a condition called Post Inflammatory Hyperpigmentation (PIH). When these sores are allowed to settle on their own, those with stable skin and Fitzpatrick skin type 1 and 2 often tend to heal, but could leave behind scars that can remain for life.

At GVG Invivo Hospital, there is a sudden increase in patients coming in with NIV-related injuries. "It is better to minimise the scars with plastic surgery and energy-based treatments. We are starting a scar clinic to see these patients from November 1," said Dr Gunasekar Vuppalapati, CMD, GVG Invivo Hospital.

Dr Jagadish Hiremath, CEO, Ace Suhas Multi-Speciality Hospital, said, "In a few patients, the marks remain for longer durations, and lead to serious issues. Complications of NIV facial masks have been reported. NIV has its own limitations, pressure-related skin and tissue necrosis is one of them. The most important cause is pressure above the normal capillary filling pressure of the skin, along with factors such as poor hydration, hypotension and skin thinness due to anatomy and use of corticosteroids."

The doctors stated that hospitals should follow guidelines that suggest continuous application of positive airway pressure (CPAP) for six to eight hours, with intermittent breaks.

Nimhans, health dept launch stroke protocol

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA sees 70,000 to 80,000 cases of stroke each year. On World Stroke Day (October 29), the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences along with the state Health and Family Welfare Department launched a one-of-its-kind, pre- and post-hospital system of care management for stroke cases. This includes a training programme for doctors and nurses in stroke care. On the occasion, it also released a stroke brochure and stroke or brain attack factsheet and a guide.

Dr G Gururaj, Director, Nimhans, said, "Stroke treatment is restricted to places such as Bengaluru and Mysuru compared to other districts of Karnataka. We will train 20 government hospitals in and around Bengaluru in handling stroke cases and then expand it to other districts."

The institute will train 90-100 nurses and 60-70 doctors over three years and will develop a system of orderly transfer of patients across hospitals in the government sector. The total project will run for four years.

Dr Srijitesh, Additional Professor of Neurology and In charge of the project, said, "The golden period is 4.5 hours, by which time, patients must reach the hospital. Every 15 minutes, brain cells die during a stroke. The earlier they come, the better the outcome. However, most people come late as they go to local doctors or nearby facilities. Time is lost in referring the person to another hospital."

Nimhans bears the brunt of referrals as it sees 300-odd stroke cases per month and is able to manage only 10 per cent of them. The stroke programme, launched online on Thursday, will take place offline later.

"The second aspect of this programme is upgrading infrastructure of these hospitals to treat stroke cases. They will be developed as part of a 'Hub and Spoke' network cluster in Bengaluru with Nimhans as a central hub," said Dr Srijitesh.

JSS ACADEMY IN SECOND PHASE OF VACCINE TRIALS

"WE will observe if the vaccine results in immuno-protective action against Covid-19, by developing antibodies and T-Cell immunity against the coronavirus," said Dr Vivek G, Assistant Professor, Department of Pulmonary Medicine, RRMCH, which is conducting the study on 150 volunteers.

The JSS Academy started the trials on September 23 and is in the second phase of the study. So far, the institute has screened 150 participants of which 80 have been vaccinated. Twenty one participants are included in the immunology cohort. Another 27 participants are yet to be vaccinated in another two days.

Dr Alben Sigamani, head of research at Narayana Health, said they screened 30 out of 300 people so far. "It is a two-stage process. We first screen them for history of Covid-19 or exposure to patients, with RT-PCR and antibody tests. The second stage is to screen them for latent TB with chest X-ray and antigen test. Those who do not consent to be vaccinated will form the control arm of the study. one person has been vaccinated so far and six more are in the line. They will be followed up for six months," Dr Sigamani said.

The state government has appointed S R Natesha as Director of Bandipur Tiger Reserve. He was Conservator of Forests and Director, Project Elephant. On October 27, the government had issued an order appointing Manoj Kumar, chief conservator of forests, Chamarajanagar, to hold charge, but withdrew the order. Deepika Bajpai has been posted as Deputy Conservator of Forests, working plan, Dharwad.

With bypolls to Sira and RR Nagar seats on November 3, Karnataka's prominent leaders have something to prove — BS Yediyurappa needs to reaffirm his leadership status, HD Deve Gowda has to claw back into the reckoning and DK Shivakumar has to live up to his image

FOR BIG 3, PERSONAL STAKES ARE HIGH IN BYPOLL BATTLE

With a win under belt, BSY can flex muscle

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

FOR Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, the bypolls are a chance to reaffirm and reassert his leadership within the party, especially amid speculation over leadership change. It will again prove his ability to win elections in Vokkaliga-dominated constituencies like RR Nagar and Sira, that were won by the Congress and JDS in 2018. The CM will hit the campaign trail in Sira on Friday, and RR Nagar on Saturday, to muster support for party candidates.

Keen to continue its winning streak under Yediyurappa's leadership, the BJP is making all efforts to win both seats and expand its base. In the bypolls to 15 assembly segments last November, after he took over as Chief Minister, Yediyurappa managed a win in 12 constituencies. That election gave the government much-needed stability, and Congress and JDS legislators who resigned from their assembly membership to help BJP form the government, made it to the Cabinet.

This time around, it's a different challenge. The Congress is taking on the government on a number of issues, like handling of the Covid pandemic and flood situation, farmers are taking to the streets to protest against the Land Reforms and APMC Acts, a pandemic-induced economic slowdown has hit the government's ability to take up any development works, and to add to that, leaders like former Union minister Basanagouda Patil Yatnal are openly talking of the possibility of leadership change. Under these circumstances, winning both the seats will help Yediyurappa silence his critics and emerge as leader both within and outside the party.

Taking no chances, the party deployed a number of senior leaders in both constituencies. In Sira, where the Congress seems to be giving the BJP a tough fight, CM's son and party state unit vice-president BY Vijayendra is in charge. Also, ensuring Muniratna's victory in RR Nagar will give Yediyurappa more confidence, as he was among the rebel Congress legislators who joined the BJP last year and played a key role in government formation. The RR Nagar victory will boost the BJP strength in Bengaluru. Sira, where the BJP has never won, will give the CM additional muscle power.

- Amid leadership-change rumours, bypoll win will prove crucial
- BJP grabbed 12 of 15 seats in the previous bypolls, wants to continue winning streak
- Has to contend with an aggressive Opposition taking up serious issues

Gowda has to retain Vokkaliga home turf

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

JANATA Dal (Secular) patriarch H D Deve Gowda and his son, former Chief Minister H D Kumaraswamy, are pulling out all the stops in Sira and R R Nagar, which have a sizeable Vokkaliga community presence, to ensure the victory of the party's candidates. After losing KR Nagar, which is also Vokkaliga turf, they do not want to lose Sira.

The 87-year-old former PM has been leading from the front, campaigning hard with a battery of JDS leaders. Party MP Prajwal Revanna and Nikhil Kumaraswamy too are raising the campaign heat.

In the previous bypolls to 15 Assembly seats, the JDS did not win a single seat and is keen to retain Sira. For the party workers on the ground, MLA B Sathyanarayana's death came as a huge blow, and it will be embarrassing for the party if they cannot win it back.

In the last parliamentary polls too, the JDS could manage only the Hassan seat where Prajwal Revanna won. Deve Gowda himself had to taste defeat in Tumakuru. In June this year, Gowda was elected unopposed to the Rajya Sabha from Karnataka with the support of the zCongress in the biennial elections held for four seats that fell vacant after the previous members' terms ended on June 25.

The party, which had a strength of 37 members in the Assembly, saw its number drop to 34 after three MLAs switched sides.

Kumaraswamy had been cut-up with Siddaramaiah ever since the coalition government, headed by him, lost majority on the floor of the House last year, with as many as 17 legislators from both parties deciding to resign and cross over to the BJP.

Congress leader Siddaramaiah had also openly opposed the idea of joining hands with the JD(S) for the November 3 by-elections to the two Assembly seats.

- JDS leadership doing all it can to secure Sira and R R Nagar seats, which have sizeable Vokkaliga presence
- With not a single win in the previous bypolls to 15 seats, JDS keen to retain Sira
- Bypoll in Sira necessitated after demise of MLA B Sathyanarayana due to Covid-19

For DKS, it's an acid test of leadership

ANUSHA RAVI @ Bengaluru

EVEN if the Congress were to win both the bypoll-bound seats, it would make no difference to the stability of the BS Yediyurappaled BJP government in Karnataka. Yet, winning them is of utmost importance to DK Shivakumar.

Apart from the fact that these bypolls are Shivakumar's debut electoral venture as Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee President, a victory is necessary for him to grow beyond his image of a 'lone ranger'. Ever since his appointment as KPCC chief, Shivakumar has been reaching out to leaders to build bridges between various factions of the party. The bypolls are perhaps the first test of that forged unity.

Having built a perception of being a 'troubleshooter', 'crisis manager', 'Mr Dependable' for the party in challenging times, Shivakumar is now compelled to translate that perception into electoral victory. With very few exceptions, like the 2018 Ballari Lok Sabha bypoll, Shivakumar has been a loner who has rarely won elections for candidates other than himself and brother DK Suresh. But as KPCC chief, he has to set aside his rivalries, lead the party, motivate cadres, unite leaders and win elections out of his comfort zones. In the past 10 days, Shivakumar has campaigned in Sira for four days and in Rajarajeshwari Nagar for six — both in Old Mysuru, his backyard.

"Shivakumar is a popular leader but not a mass leader," opined a Congress office-bearer. This election is Shivakumar's stepping stone to elevate himself to the status of 'mass leader'. For a man striving to be the next big Vokkaliga leader after former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, Shivakumar is under pressure to come across as a relatable, reliable leader for the Vokkaligas, who are dominant in RR Nagar and Sira.

For Shivakumar, RR Nagar is a personal favourite, not just because it comes under Bengaluru Rural MP DK Suresh's constituency, but also because he handpicked the candidate, H Kusuma, to take on a very competent Muniratna. While a victory in Sira would be a collective effort of all Congress leaders, it will be a personal one in RR Nagar for Shivakumar. But only if.

- Winning bypolls crucial as it his debut election outing as KPCC President
- Victory will give DKS the status of mass leader
- Under pressure to prove his Vokkaliga credentials in these two seats in Old Mysuru, his stomping ground

BYPOLL BYTES

Cash distribution a worry in Sira

TUMAKURU : Poll officials seized Rs 64.4 lakh in cash at Kallambella checkpost on Wednesday evening from three people travelling In an SUV to Channagiri from Bengaluru .Security at checkposts has been intensified, said MCC nodal officer Shubha Kalyan, ZP CEO, as distribution of money is becoming an issue in Sira assemble constituency. Recently, at Gomaradahalli village, JDS supporters found some women collecting. " All three major parties are fighting an intense battle. Distribution of money, in the coming days, may tilt the balance," said a resident. ENS

BSY heads into battlefield today

BENGALURU: As campaigning for the bypolls goes into its final stages, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa is all ready to head out into the battlefield. Yediyurappa will be going to Sira, Tumakuru and Rajarajeshwari Nagar to campaign for his party candidate. On Friday, he will go to Sira assembly constituency, and on Saturday, he will campaign in RR Nagar. These polls are crucial to the senior BJP leader. His party had won 12 out of 15 seats in both these segments in the previous bypolls. ENS

Bengaluru: After BJP candidate Muniratna's teary appeal to voters, it was Congress RR Nagar candidate Kusuma's turn to use the age-old trick. "I have been shedding tears in private since 2015," she said, a reference to her husband IAS officer D K Ravi's demise. ENS

Kateel predicts massive win for party

CHIKKAMAGALURU: BJP State President Nalin Kumar Kateel, speaking to reporters on Thursday, said that in Sira assembly segment, voters are angry with the Congress' and JDS' style of functioning, claiming that his party candidate will win by a margin of 15,000 votes. On RR Nagar, he said BJP leader Muniratna will also come out victorious, with a margin of 50,000 votes. Ruling out an "internal understanding" between the BJP and the JDS, Kateel said that the necessity did not arise. "The Congress is playing musical chairs for the CM's post, even when assembly elections are far away." he remarked. ENS

ONE JIBE FITS ALL

Siddu borrows Modi's 'dynastic corruption'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS Legislature Party chief Siddaramaiah borrowed from Prime Minister Narendra Modi a jibe to attack CM BS Yediyurappa on Thursday.

Addressing voters in Sira, Siddaramaiah picked Modi's Bihar electoral campaign jibe on "dynastic corruption", and applied it to level allegations against Yediyurappa and his family. "Narendra Modi has spoken about 'dynastic corruption'. Looks like it was a clear reference to BS Yediyurappa and sons," Siddaramaiah said.

The sly twist of reference came when Siddaramaiah alleged that voters were being bribed by the saffron party. "BJP is distributing a lot of money to voters in Sira. There is evidence. Why are the Election Commission and police silent on this?" Siddaramaiah asked. On Tuesday, Modi had said, "Generational corruption is a major challenge for the country and dynasty of corruption makes the country hollow."

With polling barely three days away, the Congress has pushed its key leaders to campaign forcefully in Sira and RR Nagar. While in RR Nagar, the party's pitch is to "teach a lesson to defectors and give new faces a chance", in Sira, it is issues of corruption and development.

BJP leaders join hands to win DCC Bank polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi

BJP, which enjoys an enormous clout in the cooperative sector in the district, has brought all the leaders together to win the elections to the Belagavi District Central Cooperative (DCC) Bank.

Deputy Chief Minister Laxman Savadi and KMF Chairman Balachandra Jarkiholi and several other top leaders in the cooperative sector announced on Thursday that they would ensure that all the 16 directors were elected unopposed. The elections will be held on November 6.

These elections assume significance here as most of the top leaders from the district are associated with the bank to gain control over it as hundreds of cooperative societies in the district are linked to it.

Deputy Chief Minister Laxman Savadi, KMF Chairman and MLA Balachandra Jarkiholi and others address a press meet in Belagavi on Thursday

In the previous two years, a stiff contest had been witnessed between the two rival factions — headed by Jarkiholi and Katti.

At a joint press conference, BJP leaders Savadi, Balachandra Jarkiholi and MLA Umesh Katti said, "Of the total 16 seats, only one candidate is in the fray in each of the 10 seats. It means, elections will be unopposed in these seats."

"Although multiple sets of nomination papers have been filed by some candidates in the remaining six seats, we are confident that we will be able to ensure the elections are unopposed there also. Some clarity is expected by Saturday, the last day of filing the nominations," Savadi said.

Balachandra Jarkiholi said, "There was a fight between BJP leaders over the same elections in 2015. Now, it has brought all the leaders together."

The bank has achieved Rs 25 crore profit this year and we will work to strengthen it further and increase its profits in the coming years, he said.

MLA Umesh Katti said, "On the occasion of the centenary year celebrations of the bank, a new building has been constructed. We have plans to request the Prime Minister to inaugurate it."

Early trends from postal ballots put BJP on top

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

An unprecedented number of postal ballots is starting to pour in, and the three parties are sniffing out whom the ballots favour. The trend indicates that a good number has gone to the BJP. Experts suggest that postal ballots generally favour the ruling party.

Three categories were given the option of postal ballots in Sira and RR Nagar — the elderly, physically handicapped and those affected by Covid. Government officers away on work can also choose postal ballots.

In Sira, more than 6,000 postal votes were polled as on Wednesday, and on Thursday, more were being collected. Election Commission CEO Karnataka Sanjiv Kumar said, "Votes for RR Nagar will be collected from Friday."

Kumar said, "In both segments, voters with disability, senior citizens and those affected by Covid were given choice of postal ballot."

As early encouragement pours in for BJP, Congress and JDS are not giving up, and have appointed workers booth-wise and street-wise, as a last push.

Political analyst BS Murthy said, "It is the first time we are seeing a large number of postal votes. Postal ballots tend to favour the ruling dispensation. In case of a tight fight, there is no discounting postal votes. They are a sign of voter participation and democratic health."

ELECTION STRATEGY

Parties hitch their campaign wagons to stars this poll season

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

STARS have been descending on the RR Nagar assembly constituency of late. Conspicuously, actors haven't been invited to campaign in Sira constituency till now. Both go to the polls on November 3.

However, netas are not inclined to bring in many stars to avoid crowds due to the pandemic.

BJP candidate from RR Nagar Munirathna himself is a known Kannada film producer. While on Tuesday, actor Shruthi campaigned for him, on Wednesday it was the turn of actor-turned politician Kushboo Sundar who recently joined the BJP. Kushboo participated in a roadshow at Laggere. Actor Darshan, who is also a resident of RR Nagar, will soon campaign for Munirathna.

RR Nagar is dotted with actors' residences. Malavika Avinash and Ganesh are among the stars who reside here. Malavika and Ganesh's wife Shilpa are BJP members.

Actor-politician Nikhil Kumaraswamy campaigns in RR Nagar constituency

Not just the BJP, even the Congress is looking at star power. KPCC president D K Shivakumar has met a few Kannada actors, including Nenapirali Prem and Vinod Prabhakar, and sought their help.

Sources from the KPCC office said that this time they did not invite many actors for campaigning. "We are aware that if we invite stars, crowd management will be difficult. As per the guidelines of the Election Commission of India, assembling of more people is not advisable," the sources said.

Of the Big 3, JDS has not approached any film personality so far. Former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy's son, Nikhil Kumaraswamy, who is an actor, participated in a roadshow on Tuesday. Kumaraswamy himself is a film producer.

Interestingly, none of the political parties have invited Sandalwood stars to campaign for their candidates in Sira. A senior BJP leader, who didn't wish to be named, said each constituency was different. "In RR Nagar, our party candidate Munirathna has a film background and was an MLA earlier. Whereas in Sira, our candidate Dr Rajesh Gowda is from the medical field and is not a known person. We need to push him, inviting film stars will not work for him as he is a first-timer. There we need our party leaders who can direct him during the campaigning," the leader said.

IPS officer alleges harassment, quits

Upset over being overlooked during recent promotions, ADGP P Ravindranath to approach court

What the resignation letter says

"I have served the people of Karnataka with utmost devotion, but in the last four years I faced problems created by a few individuals. I approached the Central Administrative Tribunal and High Court and obtained relief. The recent Supreme Court order, dated October 15, gave me justice with respect to my service matter. But a few individuals prevented justice to me. Therefore, having undergone agony of the indirect harassment, I submit my resignation herewith to lead a peaceful life."

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SENIOR IPS officer P Ravindranath on Wednesday resigned from service over alleged harassment in the department by 'a few individuals' and being targeted indirectly by giving promotion to his junior officers.

Ravindranath, who was posted as Additional Director General of Police in the Forest Cell, tendered his resignation to Chief Secretary T M Vijay Bhaskar through Director General and Inspector General of Police Praveen Sood, stating that he is upset over the recent transfer and promotion of two IPS officers to the rank of Director General of Police, overlooking him.

Speaking to reporters, Ravindranath said, "By sending my resignation, I am fighting for all IPS and IAS officers. A couple of officers got promoted in an illegal way and the government is playing a game with the department. Thus, I have decided to resign and approach the court to get justice, not only for my sake."

In his resignation letter, Ravindranath stated that he had served the people of Karnataka with utmost devotion, but in the last four years, he faced "problems created by a few individuals."

Ravindranath added that the Supreme Court too gave him justice on October 15 with respect to his service issue.

When TNIE contacted Chief Secretary T M Vijay Bhaskar, he refused to comment. DG&IGP Praveen Sood did not answer phone calls despite repeated attempts.

The 1989 batch IPS officer Ravindranath from Andhra Pradesh had landed in a controversy six years ago when he was accused of clicking pictures of a woman at a cafe in Bengaluru. The case was later withdrawn by the complainant.

Woman claims to be Parameshwara's niece, conned lover gets her arrested

MG CHETAN @ Bengaluru

IN a case that appears straight out of a movie script, a con woman who claimed to be a niece of former DyCM G Parameshwara, was handed over to the police by her lover, after he dragged her to meet the Congress leader to confirm her identity. Parameshwara said he did not know her.

Yogesh, a resident of Nagadevenahalli and cab driver, came in contact with Pallavi, aged around 35, through his relative Rajashekhar, an auto driver. Pallavi, who had earlier travelled in Rajashekhar's auto, had claimed she was a social worker and Parameshwara's niece, and that she could help unemployed youths get loans under the MUDRA scheme. They had exchanged numbers. In May, she contacted Rajashekhar to tell him she was in Mysuru and needed a car. Rajashekhar asked Yogesh to go.

"As I had no work during the lockdown, I went to Mysuru. I took her and an elderly woman around for two days and was paid for it. She told me she would require a car often and would call me. Two days later, she called and said she was interested in me, but I told her I wasn't. She hired my car on several occasions but didn't pay the rental fare, which mounted to Rs 4 lakh. When I asked her to pay up, she threatened me to marry her, and warned that she would file a fake rape complaint against me," Yogesh stated in his complaint.

As the days passed, they became close and Yogesh's parents consented for their marriage. However, Yogesh learnt that Pallavi was married twice before, and had cheated several youths of money after promising them loans.

"To ascertain her identity, he took her to the former Deputy Chief Minister's house in Sadashivanagar on October 23, where Parameshwara's wife failed to identify her. Later, he went to Siddhartha Medical College in Tumakuru to meet Parameshwara, who confirmed that she was not his relative and told him to file a police complaint. He filed a cheating complaint," Jnana Bharathi police said.

Sources said that Pallavi had even fooled police with her claim that she was Parameshwara's niece. "She used to visit the police station and had offered to help police staffers with help in transfers," an official said.

Zipline thrill awaits adventure tourists at Jog Falls

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

FANCY ziplining over the Jog? A zipline will soon be thrown open for adventure lovers at Jog Falls — at 450 metres, it will be Karnataka's longest, and the country's second longest zipline.

The Jog Management Authority (JMA) is setting it up along the waterfalls, as part of the Jog Falls Comprehensive Management Plan. JMA members said this will be the second longest zipline in India after Rishikesh. While there are many private and police or defence training ziplines in the state, they are usually 100-250 metres in length.

Shivamogga DC and JMA head K B Sivakumar said this is the first such zipline, and is part of the action plan to improve Jog Falls at a cost of ₹130 crore.

Work on the zipline has started, with setting up of the boarding platform and stringing ropes across the cliffs. The starting point of the zipline will be near the entry gate of the Yatrinivas, and will culminate at the pathway by the Jog Falls, towards the staircase point on the other side. Operations will start after the monsoon gives over.

"We are using only the area in the Jog Falls for the activity. No trees are being cut and there will be no environmental damage. However, developmental work around Jog Falls is also being taken up, like creating a parking facility from where tourists will be brought in battery-operated vehicles. The adventurists, after ziplining to the other end, will have the option of either walking back to the entry point or use battery-operated vehicles," he said.

Environmentalists and forest officials are, however, not convinced. "Though the management is with the district administration and tourism department, the area falls under a forest patch. Earlier, the JMA had lit up the falls at night, but it stopped after they understood the environmental impact. This project should be assessed again, before taking up any such activities as they are creating a permanent structure," a forest official said.

B'LURU DRUGS CASE

BINEESH'S ARREST MAY RUFFLE BIGWIGS IN KERALA

Though state intelligence had info on Anoop, it's suspected they didn't take action due to his links with the CPM secretary's son

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE arrest of Bineesh Kodiyeri, son of CPM state secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan, by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in connection with a drug case in Bengaluru could spell trouble for many bigwigs in Kerala including a few in the Malayalam film industry.

As the ED unit in Bengaluru is probing the finances of Bineesh who allegedly funded Kochi native Mohammed Anoop, the main accused in the drug case busted by the Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB), the sleuths are expected to come knocking at the doors of those in Kerala who have been into financial dealings with Bineesh.

Mohammed Anoop was arrested in the Bengaluru drug case along with Kannada television star D Anikha and Rijosh Raveendran, a Palakkad resident, on August 28.

Though the state intelligence and excise departments had specific information on Anoop's operations in Kerala in the last one year and his links with a few personalities in Malayalam filmdom, it's suspected that the state agencies didn't initiate any action against him because of his close association with Bineesh.

"Anoop used to operate from Kochi before shifting to Bengaluru. He used to frequent Kochi to attend many parties attended by film personalities," said a senior officer of the state Special Branch. The ED has been keeping a close watch on the financial dealings of both Binoy Kodiyeri and Bineesh ever since Hasan Ismaeel Abdulla Al Marzooqi, a Dubai businessman, came out with a complaint against Kodiyeri Balakrishnan's elder son, for allegedly cheating him and his partner of 7 million UAE dirhams in 2018.

FRIENDSHIP WITH ANOOP

Bineesh Kodiyeri and Kochi native Anoop Mohammed became friends while Bineesh was trying for a career as an actor in Malayalam films. Anoop was known in select film circles as he used to allegedly supply drugs like LSD and MDMA at parties in Kochi attended by a few film personalities. Bineesh continued to be Anoop's close friend even after the latter shifted operations to Bengaluru. Bineesh used to provide fund to Anoop and visit him in Bengaluru. In fact, Bineesh gave money to Anoop for his textile business in Kochi which later flopped. ENS

Kochi ED had questioned accused in September

INCIDENTALLY, Anoop is also said to be known to K T Rameez, an accused in the diplomatic baggage gold smuggling case. The ED unit in Kochi had questioned Bineesh last month over his alleged links with the accused in the gold smuggling case. The agency had also directed the Kerala's registration department to inform it if Bineesh attempted to dispose off his properties.

Expectedly, Opposition parties in Kerala have launched a scathing attack on the government and the CPM. Opposition leader Ramesh Chennithala said CM Pinarayi Vijayan and Kodiyeri Balakrishnan were running underworld activities in the state. Union Minister V Muralidharan said while the Kerala government is aiding gold smugglers, the CPM is aiding drug dealers. "Isn't it a matter of shame that both the Kerala government and the CPM are aiding illegal activities? They should seek pardon from the public. This is not a normal incident as the son of CPM state secretary is arrested for helping drug dealers," he said.

Kerala BJP president K Surendran said Bineesh is booked for no ordinary crime but for having links with international drug cartels. "This is an unprecedented incident in the history of Kerala as Chief Minister's office has become a safe haven for gold smugglers while CPM headquarters aids drug peddlers," he said.

Sivasankar contacted Customs officer: ED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

MORE than assisting the gold smuggling case accused Swapna Suresh in money laundering, former principal secretary to the chief minister M Sivasankar also contacted the Customs for clearing diplomatic cargo, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) told the Special Court for Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) cases in Kochi on Thursday. Sivasankar was sent to the ED custody for seven days.

"In his statement to ED on October 15, Sivasankar admitted to have spoken to a senior Customs officer and made a request as per the wishes of Swapna. This clearly shows his active involvement in the offence committed by Swapna. In fact, he had also spoken/sent messages to one of the officers in April 2019 for clearance of some diplomatic baggage which was to be examined by Customs authorities," the report filed by ED at the court said.

However, Sivasankar denied it in the interrogation held on Wednesday before his arrest. "But ED is in possession of WhatsApp messages between Sivasankar and Swapna which indicate that he did intervene in the clearance of diplomatic baggage as late as April 2019. It is revealed that other accused had conspired to send two pieces of dummy diplomatic baggage in July 2019 which was just two months after the intervention by Sivasankar for clearance of the diplomatic baggage which could also be a dummy baggage or could be containing gold which got cleared unexamined," the report stated.

'ED has a theory, wants me to admit to that'

Kochi: When produced at the Special Court for Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) cases in Kochi on Thursday, M Sivasankar (in pic) said the directorate has a theory and it wants him to admit to that. He was brought before the court around 11am after his medical examination was conducted at General Hospital here. When Sivasankar asked for permission to make a submission, the judge allowed it and asked him to come forward near his seat to do so.

Oppn protests seeking CM's resignation

T'Puram : Opposition parties have resumed their protest demanding Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's resignation in connection, following the arrest of his former principal secretary M Sivasankar. Youth Congress and Bharatiya Janata Yuva Morcha - the youth outfits of the Congress and BJP respectively - organised separate protests in the state capital on Thursday. Youth Congress workers marched to the Cliff House - the official residence of the Chief Minister - demanding his resignation.

Customs also to arrest Sivasankar

Kochi: After the ED, the Customs is likely to arrest Sivasankar. Customs officials were present at the ED office here on Thursday before Sivasankar was taken to the PMLA court. Incidentally, customs sleuths had also been present at the ED office on Wednesday when he was taken into custody. According to the customs sleuths, they had visited the ED office to record Sivasankar's statement. But they will have to wait till the ED custody of Sivasankar ends.

Tech Mahindra and HAL sign ₹400-cr contract

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd and Tech Mahindra signed a contract worth ₹400 crore recently in Bengaluru for implementation of the Enterprise Resource Planning to support HAL's 'Project Parivartan', a comprehensive business transformation exercise through technology enhancement and centralized ERP.

HAL Chairman and Managing Director R Madhavan said that the exercise will enable HAL to adopt some of the best practices followed in similar industries globally.

According to an HAL statement, Tech Mahindra will be responsible for the modernisation of the ERP System as an implementation and support partner enabling HAL to streamline and standardise its business processes across the organisation. As a system integrator, Tech Mahindra will implement the project over a period of nine years. The contract was signed by Dibyendu Maiti, Executive Director (Corporate Planning), HAL, and Prashanth S, Group Competency Head, Tech Mahindra in the presence of R Madhavan, CMD, HAL.

Rajinikanth's tweet confirms his reluctance

S KUMARESAN @Chennai

A DAY after a letter emerged hinting that actor Rajinikanth was reconsidering his political entry, he tweeted that the details of his health issues mentioned in the note were true. However, he said the letter was not written by him. He said he would soon declare his "political stance" after a discussion with members of his fan club.

"His message implies that he would not be entering politics due to health reasons," said a senior functionary of the Rajini Makkal Mandram. "There is nothing to declare about his political stance. The only thing he had to announce was the launch of his party. Now, it's clear that he will not do so."

The development comes almost three years after the actor categorically stated that he would soon be entering the political fray to usher change. Following that, the fan club was renamed as Rajini Makkal Mandram. The pandemic seems to have changed the mind of the actor, coupled with his prevailing health issues. A section of the fans, on Thursday, said they accepted the decision taken by the actor. "His health and peace are our priority," they said. "Some maintained that their vote is still only for Rajini."

EPS pensioners can submit DLC online

Bengaluru: In view of the prevailing pandemic situation, it has been decided to collect the Digital Life Certificate (Jeeven Pramaan Patra) for the year 2021 from the Employees' Pension Scheme pensioners through online mode. Accordingly, in order to avoid to the risk of infection due to travelling and crowding, all EPS pensioners may approach their pension disbursing bank branch or the nearest Common Service Centres to submit the Digital Life Certificate, a release said. DLC can also be submitted through the pensioner's mobile via UMANG application, provided it is connected to a biometric device. It may also be noted that the Life Certificate is now valid for 12 months from the month of its submission. ENS

TN govt passes order clearing 7.5% NEET quota

SUSHMITHA RAMAKRISHNAN @Chennai

WITH every other move hitting a hurdle, the State government on Thursday issued an Government Order reserving 7.5 per cent undergraduate government medical seats for students who have studied in government schools from classes 6 to 12 and cleared NEET. As the Bill passed on the State Assembly in September is still pending with the Governor for his assent, the government said it had issued the order considering the "urgency to decide on the issue." As per the order, the horizontal reservation will be provided within each category of the vertical reservation followed in the State.

Most parties have welcomed the government's move. However, it's unclear if the order will withstand judicial scrutiny. While the government has the legal ambit to pass such an order, it can easily be contested in court, says retired justice P Chandru. "For instance, a student from a private school can legally contest for the seat obtained by a student of his same caste/community through the current quota, given the former has secured more marks in NEET," he said. "Two students from the same community are considered socio-economically equal in front of law, unless one of them is in the creamy layer. You cannot reserve seats within the same community just because a student went to a government school."

'Declare November 1 Anti-Child Marriage Day'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHILD Rights Trust, Bengaluru has urged the state government to declare November 1 as Anti-Child Marriage Day. The organisation has submitted a memorandum to the Department of Women and Child Development regarding the same, considering that it is on this day that the Prohibition of Child Marriage Act 2006 was declared, to put an end to child marriages. The Act prohibits marriages between any girl below 18 years and boys below the age of 21. Karnataka also has the distinction of declaring all child marriages 'void ab initio'.

"Girls who get married early, lose out on education, health care, and have to endure domestic violence, discrimination, and economic dependency. Infant mortality, U5 mortality and maternal mortality for many are just a few numbers but are hindering the development of the nation," said Vasudeva Sharma N V, Executive Director of CRT.

GADKARI'S INITIATIVE TO ADDRESS INFRA DELAYS LATE BUT LAUDABLE

Union Minister Nitin Gadkari pulled no punches calling out the delays in infrastructure projects on Wednesday. Without mentioning names, he chided officials for taking as long as nine years to complete a National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) building. He even made some devastating observations that delays due to disputes, unhelpful rules and clearances cost the NHAI at least ₹3 lakh crore per year. So it's now decided that contracts won't be awarded without completing 80% of the land acquisition. Just fixing the cobweb of complicated rules and procedures could save at least ₹1 lakh crore a year, he further reasoned. It's this admirable directness that won him much applause moments after his speech.

What's disquieting though is the timing. While commendable, the government's latest resolve to acquire land before project commissioning itself is a delayed drop, given that its ₹100 lakh crore infrastructure investment boost was rolled out around this time last year. Such a decision in 2019 would have put several projects in construction phase by now, just in time to goose the economy. But it's never too late; so the government must back Gadkari and his team's efforts by fast-tracking inter-ministerial clearances and settling litigations or disputes. On last count, the cost of 1,661 projects worth ₹20 lakh crore has shot above ₹25 lakh crore.

Infra project delays are a global phenomenon and cost escalations appear inevitable everywhere. Yet, they are deemed essential, given the multiplier effect on the economy, more so during downturns. Likewise, delays too have significant implications but inevitably, each phase including development, construction and operations-and-maintenance must tide over several complexities or sit on the back burner, sometimes for decades. In this backdrop, public-private partnerships appeared as an acceptable means to ensure speed, but the brutal truth is, change in ownership itself cannot mitigate the problems originally caused by government machinery. It's extremely important to resolve this first if the idea is to put the economy back on the revival path.

A COVID END TO RAJINI'S POLITICAL DREAMS?

Even as election battle lines are being drawn in Tamil Nadu, actor Rajinikanth's cryptic message about his hesitation in testing the political waters may bring an end to the "will he" and "when will he" speculation. The statement cited the pandemic and his health as major reasons for him to retract his steps. The 70-year-old actor reportedly underwent a kidney transplant in 2016. His doctors are believed to have cautioned him that even a corona vaccine may not guarantee immunity as he is already on immunosuppressants.

A formal decision, whenever taken, may come as a disappointment to political circles and fans, but it may also be seen as closure to the two-decade-long wait for the superstar's plunge. Rajinikanth has been keeping political pundits guessing about his entry, possible alignments, his ability to swing people's choices and the impact on the vote vault of the traditional Dravidian rivals. A recent meeting between him and film colleague Kamal Haasan had also kept alive the gossip on whether the two actors who have shared screen space will also share the dais. To add to this, Rajinikanth's impact on the saffron streak that has been emerging in the state was also doing the rounds. Expecting his plunge before the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, Rajini Makkal Mandram, his fan outfit, began with soft poster campaigns. But the actor remained silent throughout the general elections as well as before the rural local body polls held late last year.

The decision to call it quits appears wise, considering the unpredictability that has arisen due to the pandemic. The recent death of 74-year-old singer S P Balasubrahmanyam due to Covid following his participation in a television show in Hyderabad has cast doubts on the safety of aging stars in public spaces. Fans should make peace with the decision when the actual announcement is made, however anti-climactic it might be. The pandemic may be leading to a political casualty of sorts. Considering the odds stacked, avoiding the hustings for good could be a smart choice for the actor who has often said he had been advised by his Bollywood colleague, Amitabh Bachchan, never to join politics.

The tolerant and federal structure of ancient faiths like Hinduism brought together nationalities scattered across varying geographies without force

NAVARATRI & HOW INDIC RELIGIONS ARE INTRINSICALLY FEDERAL

JAWHAR SIRCAR
Retired civil servant. Former Culture Secretary and ex-CEO, Prasar Bharati

TAPAS RANJAN

Many have often wondered how ancient Indic religions like Hinduism, Buddhism and Jainism (Sikhism is not that 'ancient') survived and prospered for millennia without a designated holy book like the Bible or the Koran and with no Mecca, Vatican or Jerusalem to guide people. With a little introspection, we come to realise that it is actually this absence of a 'central command' and non-uniform format that account for this. In fact, the intrinsically tolerant and federal structure of these faiths, especially Hinduism, historically brought together nationalities scattered across widely varying geographies of this subcontinent—with quite distinct diets, languages and customs—without force.

To appreciate this phenomenon, we may need to understand how major pan-Indian festivals offered different meanings to Hindus in different regions. The overarching common theme served mainly as an umbrella under which unique local traditions and cultural expressions found universal acceptance and legitimacy within the Hindu belief system. Since Navaratri is still fresh in our minds, let us traverse its terrain and observe how dissimilar customs and rituals came together in harmony and mutual respect—with no single theme thrusting itself on any.

All Hindus agree on the same nine days and ten nights in autumn, but beyond that, the observances in different regions vary quite a lot—as the 'parochial' adjusts itself within the 'universal'. The important point to note, however, is that these are not really 'local variants' of some 'national-level standard' as is often claimed—for no standard exists at all. Many old regional traditions have actually taken several steps forward to 'sanskritise', if one may use this term for want of an exact expression, and operate within the framework.

Broadly, we can decipher three zonal themes in Navaratri—the first in the North and West, the second in the East and parts of the Northeast, and the third in the South. In the first zone, the 'Goddess' is worshipped through fasts and rigorous dietary restraint over nine days, but it is ultimately Rama's victory over the evil Ravana on Dussehra that is really the climax. The East and Northeast celebrate not Rama but Durga, in her most belligerent form, and on the tenth day, Vijaya Dashami, commemorate her triumph over evil—as personified by Mahishasura. We see how plural the Hindu mode actually is, when we note that Andhra and Mysore celebrate neither Ram nor Durga, but the victory of the Pandavas.

In the South, different Devis are worshipped during Navaratri, and Tamilians dedicate the first three days to Lakshmi, the next three to Parvati or Durga, and the last three days to Saraswati. We come across fascinating displays of many dolls placed on wooden planks, called Bommai Kolu and other similar names. At the end of Navaratri, the southern states, Maharashtra and Odisha observe Ayudha or Astra Puja to worship instruments and tools, which, incidentally, is done in the Gangetic plains, Bengal and the East during Vishwakarma Puja a month earlier. Then, while both the North and the South agree on worshipping nine forms of the Goddess on nine days, the East remains ambivalent. Bengal and neighbouring states celebrate only the last three days and from the tenth one, observe no dietary restrictions and feast on fish and meat. Some Rajput families of Rajasthan also shatter Navaratri's vegetarian tradition by slaughtering goats and buffaloes.

> What is striking is the almost total absence of any pre-planned mission to homogenise belief and custom within Hinduism. It is clear, therefore, that any attempt to make it uniform is bound to be antithetical and counterproductive

Let us view some more interesting modes of celebration of the 'same Navaratri' in different corners of India—to understand that regional customs actually prevail during most 'pan-Indian' festivals. In Maharashtra, for instance, Navaratri is celebrated as the Ghatsthapana utsav, when an earthen pot is filled with water and sits on a base of wet clay, in which seven types of foodgrains are sown, which sprout in these nine days. For Gujaratis, the pitcher represents fertility and is called garba or womb. Their famous Garba dance is around this pot, into which they place a lighted lamp. Much of Garba was, however, re-fashioned after it was merged with the Dandiya Raas. In Goa, the pot is of copper and many other communities also start sowing pulses, cereals, barley and other seeds around it during this period.

Even in far-off Bengal, Nava-Patrikas or leaves of nine plants like banana, turmeric, wood apple, pomegranate and paddy are consecrated in knee-deep water on the first day (Saptami) of Durga puja. The banyan plant and other leaves are then draped in a sari and worshipped along with the goddess as Kola Bou—obviously a carry-over from a fertility cult.

Frankly, this spirit of accommodation of diversity is what brought millions together, not only through this festival but all others as well. Anthropologists can note and mark the individual rites and observances that signify how sundry seasonal rites and festivals of disparate regions gradually inched closer towards each other—under Brahmanical persuasion, often aided by ruling groups. Proselytisation is theoretically not a component of Hinduism, but 'acculturation' of entire fringe communities into the Hindu way of life has been a recurrent feature, throughout history.

What is striking, however, is the almost total absence of force or any pre-planned mission to homogenise belief and custom within Hinduism. It is clear, therefore, that any attempt to homogenise Hinduism is bound to be antithetical and counterproductive.

THE KEY TO CONTROLLING POLLUTION DUE TO STUBBLE BURNING

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE
Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry (CII)

The impact of air pollution is widespread and deep. It leads not only to increased expenditure on healthcare but also adds to economic losses across sectors. This year, the outbreak of the coronavirus pandemic is threatening to make the situation even worse.

The quality of air in Delhi, according to the System of Air Quality and Weather Forecasting and Research (SAFAR), already fell to 'moderate' in the beginning of October. It is expected to fall further with the onset of winter and increasing instances of crop-residue burning in the states of Punjab, UP and Haryana.

The Central government has allotted ₹1,700 crore to tackle the issue, enabling the concerned states to subsidise machinery used in managing stubble and enhance campaigns and farmer support programmes to promote alternatives.

Involvement of other stakeholders, especially industry, civil society and citizen groups, can help address stubble burning. The on-ground experience of the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) sheds light on how this can be done.

Farmers have traditionally burnt crop residue constrained by a lack of awareness of alternative methods and their benefits, and easy access to requisite machinery. The CII's intervention in 2018 in 19 villages in Punjab through a pilot field project with active technical training and advisory support by Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana (PAU) and district agriculture offices resulted in 75% of the area becoming free of stubble burning.

In 2019, the project was scaled up to 105 villages in six districts in Punjab and Haryana. Before our intervention, 64% of the rice straw produced in the intervened villages was burnt. The village farmer groups were supported with awareness building, training, farm advisory and viability gap funding to procure machinery. A year later, 87% of farmers adopted improved straw management measures, fully or partially, and 76% of straw was saved from burning.

The environmental benefits of improved crop residue management (CRM) remain very strong. A total of 1,83,000 tonnes of rice straw was prevented from being burnt, saving an estimated 1.29 thousand tonne PM10, 770 tonne PM2.5 and other pollutants from being released into the atmosphere. An estimated 10.15 billion litres of water was saved in the project villages in just one year.

> The on-ground experience of the Confederation of Indian Industry shows how pollution can be addressed by better crop residue management. The CII's intervention in 2018 in 19 villages in Punjab resulted in 75% of the area becoming free of stubble burning. Substantial money and water were also saved, but initial investment is needed to help farmers get improved tech and tools at a viable cost

The economic case for better crop residue management looks promising, but further investments are required in the sector. Contrary to popular belief, it costs farmers ₹2,948 per acre at the straw disposal stage, as indicated in the CII's study.

Corresponding operations under CRM alternatives remain slightly costlier, despite the government subsidy on machines, by about 8% in case of in-situ practice and 64% on ex-situ. In the areas where the CII helped, this cost was brought down significantly (₹2,630 per acre and ₹2,672 per acre for mulching and straw incorporation respectively) through shared economy models and financial support. To accelerate the adoption of better CRM practices, farmers need improved technologies and tools at a viable cost.

The machinery cost disadvantage of improved CRM may eventually get offset through input efficiency gains and better yield realisations, but these benefits usually come later.

Behaviour change is critically important in this endeavour. Persuading farmers to give up stubble burning was challenging, with a sense of helplessness amongst farmers. Social sector professionals and grassroots partner organisations on behalf of the CII led the dialogue with farmers leading to a fundamental change in their behaviour. The CII's work was recently awarded the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UNSDG) Action Award by UNDP and Government of Punjab under the category of 'Integration, Convergence, Joint Action and Holistic Solution Approach'.

In the current scenario, while sizeable machinery has been deployed in villages for improved straw management, several issues still require attention.

For instance, Custom Hiring Centres formed under the government scheme face inherent financial and capacity constraints. The capital cost requirement is significant even after subsidy. A collaborative approach with industry CSRs, start-ups, NGOs and citizens groups is critically important to tackle air pollution.

Centre's unilateral actions

This is with reference to the editorial Need for cogent articulation of Centre's J&K policies (Oct 29). The Centre has taken unilateral action without taking Kashmiris into confidence. People in both Jammu and Kashmir appear to be wary of the Centre's decision.

Haribandhu Panigrahi, Tarbha

Earlier laws discriminatory

Firstly, the Centre's policies are aimed at removing the privileged existence of J&K where federal laws were exempt. Secondly, that influx from other states will change Kashmir's demography is a xenophobic thought. It is needless to recollect here that insurgency had evicted its entire indigenous minority. Thankfully, the reading down of Articles 370 and 35A has opened the eyes of the rest of India.

Vaccine promise fails

It was reported that voters in Bihar are not fascinated by the offer of free vaccines to all (No vaccine swing in Bihar? Oct 29). People can no longer be fooled by election-time promises which they know by experience are unreliable and empty.

Dr M Haneef, Kottayam

Integrity of lawmakers

This is with reference to AIIMS board member choice causes uproar (Oct 29). When people facing charges for heinous crimes like murder, rape, extortion, etc., find their way into Parliament and state legislatures, what's the big deal about this doctor being appointed as an AIIMS board member? The integrity of those responsible for making all such appointments is itself questionable.

Rajini fans disappointed

Rajinikanth's apparent decision not to enter politics is a disappointment for his countless fans who were optimistic that he would provide an alternative. Citing his health, he seems to have expressed his inability to campaign now. This will gladden parties that were afraid he could make inroads into their vote banks.

S Arjun Prasanna, Bengaluru

Covid norms and fines

In spite of repeated HC rulings, the Karnataka government is not showing enough seriousness in controlling the pandemic. Every police station in the capital should be asked to collect a minimum fine for a month from people flouting Covid norms. Such a thing was done in Mumbai and there is no reason why Bengaluru cannot follow suit.

Kavi Rama Murthy, Bengaluru

EWS quota finally in Kerala

The proposed implementation of the reservation Bill for economically weaker sections in the general category at the fag end of Communist rule in Kerala, though understandably a vote-garnering gimmick, has not come a day too soon. It is intriguing that the Muslim League and a few others are opposing it. If implemented in the right way, this move could benefit many.

Elizabeth Koshy, Pathanamthitta

Obsolete system, but...

India's religion/caste-based quota system is obsolete, but political tsars still prefer this practice solely with an eye on their vote banks. It is weird that those religious and caste groups that already enjoy quota benefits are opposing reservation in the EWS category.

Thomas KM, Muvattupuzha

Kudos to Andhra cops

It is encouraging to read that the Andhra police department has bagged a good number of national-level awards and stood first among Indian states in using technology in policing (AP police win 48 SKOCH awards for use of tech, outstanding policing, Oct 29). This is a feather in their cap

Ghanshyam C, Visakhapatnam

KCR's welcome reforms

It is great to see that the Telangana CM has as promised brought in revenue reforms to punish land grabbers and end corrupt practices. The government should identify mandals where tampering happened in the past and thoroughly check the records from the 1950s with physical surveys so that the real pattadars get justice.

Expedite Rao's bail hearing, SC asks Bombay High Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday declined to consider interim bail to Telugu poet and activist Varavara Rao who was arrested two years ago in connection with the Elgar Parishad-Bhima Koregaon case, but urged the Bombay High Court to consider his existing pleas for medical bail at the earliest.

A three judge bench of Justices U U Lalit, Vineet Saran and Ravindra Bhat directed tthis while hearing a plea filed by the activist's wife, claiming that his continued custody amounted to cruel and inhuman treatment.

Noting that the last hearing was on September 17 , the judges expressed concern that the Bombay High Court had failed to list the matter for so long. Since the high court is already seized of the relevant issues in the case, the bench asked it to take up a writ petition for him to be given treatment at a specialty hospital within seven days of being filed.

The petition, filed by Pendyala Hemalatha, asked that during the pendency of the petition, the 81-year-old Rao should be released on temporary medical bail.

Senior advocate Indira Jaising, appearing for Rao's wife, told the court that denying bail to the octogenarian despite his serious medical condition was a violation of his right to health and said, "The petitioner's right to life and dignity was also being violated."

"I would not like to be responsible for a custodial death," Jaising told the bench while urging the bench to at least consider ordering Rao's transfer to Nanavati Hospital till the high court took up the matter.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the NIA, argued that every prisoner's health was a concern for the government and such an order in Rao's case may lead to other prisoners also seeking the same relief on medical grounds.

Nadda cites Chaudhry's statement to hit out at Rahul

BJP chief J P Nadda on Thursday hit out at Rahul Gandhi after Fawad Chaudhry's statement, saying the Congress MP always attacked the morale of the forces by questioning the authenticity of the surgical strikes. "The Congress has always been busy attacking the morale of the armed forces. The Congress always takes critical views of the surgical strike, airstrike in Pakistan, Galwan clashes and Article 370," said Nadda. He said the admission of the fact in the Pakistan Assembly on circumstances leading to the release of Wing Commander Abhinandan clearly affirmed India's punitive actions against Pakistan.

Pak minister admits role in Pulwama attack

Fawad Chaudhry brags about 'Imran govt's success' in Pulwama

Pakistan has repeatedly denied its hand in the February 2019 Pulwama attack in which 40 CRPF men were martyred | FILE

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @ New Delhi

IN a clear admission of Pakistan's involvement in the Pulwama terror attack on February 14 last year, a senior minister of the country, Fawad Chaudhry, on Thursday boasted that the killing of 40 CRPF personnel was "a great achievement of the Imran Khan government".

"Humne Hindustan ko ghus ke maara (We entered India and hit them hard). Our success in Pulwama is a success of the people under the leadership of Imran Khan. You and we are all part of that success," Chaudhry said in the National Assembly.

The Science & Technology Minister, however, realised his blunder when some lawmakers objected to his statement. Appearing to backtrack, Chaudhry rephrased his remarks as, "After the Pulwama incident, when we hit India in their home."

Pakistan has repeatedly denied its role in the Pulwama attack. Chaudhry's comments could leave the Imran Khan government red-faced, especially as it comes days after the global terror finance watchdog FATF has retained the country in its grey list.

In a tweet that was apparently aimed at damage control, he said, "We do not show bravery by killing innocents n we condemn terrorism."

> Humne Hindustan ko ghus ke maara* (We entered India and hit them). Our success in Pulwama is a success of the people under the leadership of Imran Khan — Fawad Chaudhry, Pak minister

India had retaliated to the Pulwama attack by carrying out an airstrike on a terror camp in Balakot in Pakistan-Occupied Kashmir. Islamabad had sent jets in response, which the IAF had blocked. However, Wing Commander Abhinandan Varthaman was captured after his Mirage 2000 was shot down. He was released two days later.

Chaudhry's admission of Pakistan's role in the terror attack that triggered this entire chain of events came during a debate over Opposition leader Ayaz Sadiq's comments over a meeting between foreign minister Shah Mahmood Qureshi and army chief General Qamar Bajwa.

"I remember Qureshi was in the meeting which Imran Khan had refused to attend and Gen Bajwa came into the room. His legs were shaking and he was perspiring. The foreign minister said, 'for God's sake, let Abhinandan go; India's about to attack Pakistan at 9 pm'," Sadiq said.

His comment caused a furore with the foreign office clarifying the officer was freed as a friendly gesture and not because the establishment was scared of Indian attack.

H1-B visa selection based on wages to hit Indians hard

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a move that could make H1-B visa procurement harder and affect thousands of Indian professionals, the Donald Trump administration has proposed to do away with the computerized lottery selection system and bring in a wage-level selection process in its place.

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) issued a notification for the same in the Federal Register, similar to a Gazette Notification in India, on Thursday. The stakeholders will have 30 days to respond to it.

According to the DHS, the new system will help in countering the downward pressure on the wages of American workers, a phenomenon which occurs due to the incoming, relatively low-paid H1-B workers.

H1-B visas are most sought after by Indians, particularly IT professionals, to enable them to work on site in speciality occupations for a short period of time on non-immigrant visas.

India said it was engaged with US authorities over the issue. "We are engaged with the US government for increasing predictability in the visa regime and to minimise the inconvenience being faced by those in the US or those who need to travel to the US for bonafide reasons," Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

"Prioritisation and selection based on wage levels better balances the interests of petitioners, H-1B workers, and US workers," the DHS said and added that the Trump administration is continuing to deliver on its promise of protecting American workers while strengthening the economy.

The DHS also claims that modifying the current process is a better way to issue H1-B visas when the demand is greater than supply.

The proposal, if implemented, will mandate the US Citizenship and Immigration Services to select registrations based on the highest occupational employment statistics prevailing wage level that the offered wage equals or exceeds for the relevant Standard Occupational Classification code and areas of intended employment.

In June, President Donald Trump had signed an executive order which temporarily banned the issuance of fresh non-immigrant visas, including H1-B, till December 31. Earlier this month, a federal US judge had stayed the ban.

Indians get 70% of total visas

Indians make up a large chunk of H1-B visa holders with 70% of the total visas granted in the category being issued to them. Annually, around 85,000 H1-B visas are issued by the US government

Former Gujarat CM Keshubhai Patel passes away

Ahmedabad: Former Gujarat chief minister Keshubhai Patel, who played a pivotal role in strengthening the BJP in the state, died here on Thursday after prolonged illness, family sources said. Patel (92), who recovered from coronavirus infection recently, was rushed to a hospital in Ahmedabad on Thursday morning following health complications, the sources said. The BJP veteran was the state chief minister in 1995 and again during 1998-2001. Narendra Modi had succeeded him as Gujarat chief minister. The state government has declared a day's state mourning on Thursday, Gujarat Chief Minister Vijay Rupani told reporters. Keshubhai's last rites will be performed with full state honours, he added.

Bidding for Air India to be on enterprise value, says Puri

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a renewed effort to privatise Air India, the government on Thursday relaxed some conditions and announced that bids will now be invited on enterprise value. It also extended the deadline for inviting bids till December 14.

Announcing the decision, Civil Aviation Minister Hardeep Puri said, "We have decided to ask for bids for Air India on enterprise value." He said the decision had been arrived at following multiple detailed preparations on the issue.

Aviation Secretary Pradeep Singh Kharola said, "In this enterprise value also, a ratio has been earmarked between how much he (bidder) can take as debt and how much he has to give as cash."

Explaining further, he said, "It has been decided that whatever enterprise value the bidder quotes, 15 per cent of that has to be given in cash to the government and remaining 85 per cent has to be taken as debt along with Air India."

Officials explained that the investor quoting the highest enterprise value will get the carrier. The move is to make the offer as flexible and market linked as possible. It has been done keeping in mind the fact that aviation sector has received a huge jolt amid the Covid-19 pandemic.

The government will not predetermine the level of debt that Air India will carry with it to the new owner, explained Tuhin Kanta Pandey, secretary in the department of investment and public asset management.

This is the second attempt by the government to sell Air India. The first attempt in March 2018 failed with investors showing no interest as the government retained a 24% stake in the airline and the bidder was required to absorb ₹49,000 crore in debt. In January this year, in its second attempt, the government sought bids for divesting its entire 100% equity in the national carrier.

Oral polio vaccine may be protecting young Indians from Covid-19

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

A new study has cited genomic evidence to propose that the oral polio vaccine might be protecting young Indians from Covid-19 through a process called cross-protection.

The long-term immune response generated by OPV might also protect from SARS-CoV-2 because of biological similarities it shares with OPV type I and type III viruses.

In the paper titled 'Impact of Microbiota: A Paradigm for Evolving Herd Immunity against Viral Diseases', researchers associated with the National Institute of Immunology have said while the entire world has a severe infection with SARS-CoV-2, there is a very low rate of death of infected children under 10.

Children who have received regular immunisation of different vaccines may have heterologous protection against Covid-19, the authors noted adding that in pan-India, the continuum of mass vaccinations with OPV, BCG, measles vaccine among others has established memory responses against many types of variable antigens in the body.

"A single-type or multiple-types of antibodies from the pool of the antibody mixture, present in the body, can recognise the novel pathogens carrying the same or similar types of antigens," says the study.

This phenomenon is considered the major reason for the unexpectedly low rate of Covid-19 occurrence in India with a faster recovery rate.

Based on their analysis, the researchers have concluded that herd immunity is the most critical prophylactic (preventive) intervention, delivering the protective immunity against several infectious diseases such as smallpox, poliovirus and measle.

> A single-type or multiple-types of antibodies from the pool of the antibody mixture, present in the body, can recognize the novel pathogens carrying the same types of antigens
>
> Study

"The new paradigm of evolving herd immunity during a pandemic situation cannot be disregarded," said the paper published recently. "Crosstalk among microbiota, metabolism and environmental factors is critical for developing a competent immune system, which is a prerequisite for evolving herd immunity against any contagious infections."

The scientists said the prevalence of heterologous immunity due to rigorous vaccination programmes at the grassroots level may provide protection against the SARS-CoV-2. They added that the comparisons between SARS-CoV-2 human poliovirus type 3 offer great insights into the concept of heterologous immunity, which can be an alternative providing prophylactic intervention against both the poliovirus and Covid-19.

FOR the second consecutive day, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Thursday conducted raids at several places in the national capital and Srinagar, including the offices of six NGOs and the property of former Delhi Minority Commission chief Zafarul-Islam Khan in connection with an alleged terror funding case. Khan is the founding editor of the newspaper Milli Gazette and chairman of Charity Alliance.

Two of the NGOs raided — Charity Alliance and Human Welfare Foundation — are based in Delhi, and the rest are based in Jammu and Kashmir.

"In continuation of yesterday's search operations, NIA conducted searches at seven locations in Srinagar, Baramulla, Anantnag & Kulgam (J&K) and two locations in Delhi in connection with the case pertaining to certain NGOs and Trusts raising funds in the name of charitable activities and then using those funds for carrying out secessionist and separatist activities in J&K," the agency said in a statement.

The NIA sleuths conducted raids at offices of NGOs in Srinagar and Baramulla in north Kashmir and Anantnag and Kulgam in south Kashmir.

They also raided the residence of former militant and separatist leader Zafar Akbar Bhat at Baghi Mehtab in Srinagar in the morning. Zafar heads J&K Islamic Salvation, a politico-social organization formed by him after he gave up militancy and plunged into 'political struggle'.

A NIA spokesman said raids were conducted s at seven locations in Valley and two locations in Delhi in connection with the case pertaining to certain NGOs and Trusts raising funds in the name of charitable activities and then allegedly using those funds for carrying out secessionist and separatist activities in J&K.

This case, he said, was registered by NIA on October 8 under Sections 120B, 124A of the IPC and Sections 17, 18, 22A, 22C, 38, 39 and 40 UAPA, 1967 as per the directions of MHA on receipt of credible information that certain NGOs and Trusts are collecting funds domestically and abroad through donations and business contributions in the name of various welfare activities such as public health, education etc.

Centre brings law via ordinance route to set up panel for tackling pollution in Delhi-NCR

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Centre has brought a new law through ordinance for constituting the commission for Air Quality Management in National Capital Region and adjoining areas. Also, any violations will invite five year jail term and ₹1 crore penalty under the new law.

It will be implemented in states of Haryana, Punjab, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh and Delhi and National Capital Region, inviting criticism from several environment experts who demanded that several cities are seeing massive air pollution and the law should have addressed the problem countrywide. Concerns were also raised that the ordinance has been brought before holding any public consultations or discussion with experts.

The ordinance, signed by the President on Wednesday, calls for better co-ordination, research, identification and resolution of problems surrounding the air quality index and for elimination and mitigation of air pollution including to controlling or eliminating stubble burning, vehicular pollution, road dust and urban constructions.

The new body will replace the 22-year-old Supreme Court monitored Environment Pollution (Prevention and Control) Authority for NCR.

The over 20-member commission, to be headquartered in Delhi, will be headed by a chairperson, not below the level of secretary, appointed by the Centre. It will be above all state pollution authorities.

CCEA approval to ₹10K-crore dam rehabilitation project

NEW DELHI: The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs chaired by the PM Narendra Modi on Thursday approved the Dam Rehabilitation and Improvement Project Phase II & Phase III. The project will have the financial assistance of the World Bank and Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank. The initiative aims to improve safety and operational performance of selected dams across the country.

Union Minister for Jal Shakti Gajendra Singh Shekhawat said the project will cost ₹10,211 crore to the excehequer, while it will be implemented over a period of 10 years. "The share of external funding is ₹7,000 crore of the total cost, and balance ₹3,211 crore is to be borne by the concerned Implementing Agencies. The contribution of Centre is ₹1,024 crore as loan liability and ₹285 crore as counter-part funding for Central Component," said Shekhawat.

The scheme envisages comprehensive rehabilitation of 736 existing dams across India in two phases, each of six-years duration, with two years overlapping from April 2021 to March 2031. ENS

RS POLLS

Mayawati suspends 7 rebel MLAs

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

BUFFETED by rebellion, Bahujan Samaj Party chief Mayawati on Thursday suspended seven party legislators for opposing the official party candidate for the Rajya Sabha polls, holding Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav for the "mischief".

Ramji Gautam is the BSP's official nominee for the RS election. Mayawati decided to pay the SP in kind, for any prospective polls. "We have decided to defeat the SP in future MLC polls no matter whether our votes go to the BJP or any other candidate. Any candidate stronger than the SP's second choice candidate will get our vote."

She alleged Akhilesh had encouraged her party rebels by agreeing to meet them on Wednesday. Having an alliance with the SP in 2019 was her biggest mistake, and so was her decision to withdraw a 1995 case against the SP involving an attack on her, the BSP supremo said.

Mayawati told the media that her party would write to the Assembly Speaker seeking disqualification of the seven rebel MLAs if they switched loyalty.

Four of the seven MLAs had also filed an affidavit for the RS polls, saying their signatures on the nomination of Gautam for were "forged". The returning officer, however, accepted Gautam's nomination for the November 9 polls for the 10 UP Rajya Sabha seats.

The BSP had on Monday fielded Gautam though it did not have the numbers to ensure his victory. Out of the 10 Rajya Sabha seats falling vacant, three were held by the BJP, four by SP, two by BSP and one by Congress.

Mayawati said Akhilesh was toeing the line of his father and would meet the same fate. "We should not have allied with them in haste. We should have given a deep thought to it. We made a wrong decision and made a very big mistake," she said.

'Modi quiet on special package, corruption, jobs'

In response to 'yuvraj of jungle raj' jibe, RJD's Tejashwi Yadav accuses PM of skipping real issues such as unemployment, migrant crisis

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

RESPONDING to PM Modi describing him as 'yuvraj of jungle raj,' RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav on Thursday accused the PM of skipping "real issues" such as corruption, unemployment and the migrant crisis.

"He is the country's Prime Minister and can say anything. I don't want to react to what he said about me, but the PM could have spoken about the special package for Bihar, unemployment and other important issues," Tejashwi Yadav told the media.

"The BJP claims to be the world's biggest party. But to counter a youth leader of 31 years like me, that party has pressed 30 helicopters," he said, taking a jibe at the BJP for targeting him.

Addressing a rally in Madhubani on Thursday, he said the NDA had installed a "system of corruption" right from the police station to the village block. "The people don't get their work done without bribing officials," he said and sought to assure the people that "apka apna raj (people's rule)" would come on the day of the results on November 10.

He promised that once the Grand Alliance comes to power, the people would not have to go out of the state for earning, studying and for health care facilities. "With GA's victory, better days would usher in for the youth, farmers and the poor."

Tejashwi said CM and JD-U chief Nitish Kumar now looks exhausted both mentally and physically and has no interest in speaking on real issues. He said signs of anxiety in the BJP were visible from the statements of PM Narendra Modi.

Violence in Munger after youth's death; poll panel removes SP, DM

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

A day after a youth was fatally injured allegedly in police firing, violence erupted in Bihar's Munger city on Thursday in which several vehicles were torched and police stations and offices of top district officials were vandalised.

The Election Commission has ordered the removal of Superintendent of Police Lipi Singh and District Magistrate Rajesh Meena. The EC has sought a report from the district administration within a week and posted new DM Rachana Patil and Manavjeet Singh Dhillon as SP.

Reports said mob violence engulfed the city following the death of Anurag Kumar, who had on Tuesday sustained bullet injuries in alleged police firing. The Munger police had allegedly resorted to firing and baton charge on a group of youths taking out an immersion procession of Goddess Durga on Tuesday.

A mob vandalised the SP office and SDO offices at the district headquarters and damaged local police stations besides burning many vehicles. The Opposition has demanded immediate removal of SP Lipi Singh, the daughter of JD-U's senior leader and MP (Rajya Sabha) RCP Singh.

Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly Tejashwi Yadav has demanded strict action in the case as well as a probe by a retired High Court judge.

The firing has led to the lowest polling in the city. LJP leader Chirag Paswan also demanded action against the police.

DIG Manu Maharaj was camping in the city to control the situation, reports said.

The EC ordered an inquiry by Asangba Chuba, Divisional Commissioner of Magadh, to identify lapses, if any, and the perpetrators of the violence.

Cops jump into action

Additional Director General Jitendra Kumar said extra police force has been sent to Munger. DIG, Munger, Manu Maharaj led a flag march in Munger town to bring the situation under control.

Generational divide appears among electorate over RJD's jungle raj in Bihar

MUKESH RANJAN & RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Muzaffarpur/Patna

AT a highway crossing in Jarang Baluaha village of Muzaffarpur, a group of men playing cards under a tree are discussing the Bihar elections. As the debate touches on the subject of the Rashtriya Janata Dal's rule of Lalu Yadav-Rabri Devi, when criminals ruled the roost, Amar Chand Verma, 32, turns agitated.

"Let Nitish Kumar keep on shouting Lalu jungle raj, but the people will vote for the candidate of their choice. It is not going to influence the voters," he said.

His views are echoed by Shubham Thakur, 21, a graduate in Patna. "What is the point in recalling the Lalu-Rabri rule? We want jobs, whoever will perform on this front will get our vote, irrespective of caste and creed," he said.

But Lata Sinha, 54, a college teacher in Patna whose doctor-husband was kidnapped for ransom in 2004, violently disagrees. "Those who have seen those days will never forget them. We will not vote for that party at any cost," she said. Sinha is supported by Kaushal Kumar Singh, 55, of Vaishali. "In those days we didn't have the courage to go out in the evenings or buy a new car. Either you would get mugged or your car would be lifted," he said.

As campaigning for the three-phase polls peaks, a competing narrative is being built by the BJP-JD(U) combine on the one hand and the RJD on the other. The BJP-JD(U) has repeatedly targeted the RJD and its leader Tejashwi Yadav, warning voters of the RJD misrule. Campaigning in Muzaffarpur on Wednesday, Modi described the 15-year RJD rule as the age of "darkness" and called Tejashwi the "jungle raj ka yuvraj (prince of jungle raj)." Nitish has similarly attacked the RJD. At a rally in West Champaran on Thursday, he urged the people to remember the "jungle raj when corruption was rampant and people never ventured out of their homes after sunset."

In contrast, Tejashwi has focused his campaign on development, unemployment and corruption. Interestingly, he has assiduously tried to hide any reminders of his parents' rule, dropping photographs of Lalu in campaign posters. "Tejashwi wants to change the focus from jungle raj to issues concerning the youth," said Archana Kumari, an election analyst.

Which of the two competing narratives will prevail in the elections will be known only on November 10, but a generational divide appears to be emerging over the RJD's alleged atrocities.

Uddhav placates onion traders, business to re-start at Lasalgaon

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA CM Uddhav Thackeray on Thursday promised to apprise the Centre of the grievances of onion traders after they agreed to restart business in Lasalgaon.

The Asia's largest wholesale onion market was shut down for the last four days. Onion traders had gone on an indefinite strike against the Centre's decision of putting up a cap of up to 2 tonne and 25 tonne respectively for retailers and wholesale traders.

A delegation of onion traders met Uddhav who assured them of informing the central government to resolve their grievance. Earlier, NCP chief Sharad Pawar also convinced the traders that he along with the delegations of traders and farmers will meet the central authorities.

Onion prices are on the rise because of a shortage of supply in the market. In Lasalgaon, the onion supply has dried up by almost 40 to 50 per cent. Maharashtra contributes nearly 35 per cent of the country's annual onion output.

Lasalgaon APMC chairman Suvarna Jagtap welcomed the decision of the traders to resume auction. She said that onion stocks were perishing due to the strike and consumers were forced to buy at a high price. "The supply chain should not be disturbed. But, the central government should also understand the practical issues of the farmers and traders."

U'khand CM not to face CBI probe in graft case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi/ Dehradun

THE Supreme Court on Thursday stayed the Uttarakhand High Court order which had ordered a CBI probe against CM Trivendra Singh Rawat to investigate an alleged bribery case involving Rawat before he became the state head.

Attorney General K K Venugopal, who appeared for Rawat, told the court that the order has to be stayed as it was passed without hearing Rawat and there was no prayer for the CBI probe in the petition being considered.

The top law officer contended that the order had destabilised the government as the Opposition were raising demands for the CM's resignation. "An elected government cannot be unsettled like this. The question is can a suo motu order be passed without hearing the party."

The top court stayed the operative portion of the October 27 HC order directing the CBI probe and asked the parties to file response in four weeks.

"The Congress must apologise to the CM as well as people of the state for its unsolicited comments. It has blackened its face in an attempt to defame the BJP," said Bansidhar Bhagat, BJP state president.

MP: Digvijaya caught in row over audio clip

BHOPAL: Congress Rajya Sabha member Digvijaya Singh is now caught in a controversy after an audio clip went viral in which he is purportedly heard asking a Samajwadi Party candidate to withdraw from the MP Assembly bypoll.

The audio clip gave the ruling BJP an opportunity to attack the Congress, which since March has been accusing the saffron party of indulging in money bag politics for pulling down the Kamal Nath government.

In the audio clip, Digvijaya is purportedly heard pressuring SP candidate Roshan Mirza to withdraw nomination for helping the Congress's electoral cause. Mirza has also reportedly claimed that he was offered ₹10 lakh by a Congress leader to withdraw from the by-poll fray.

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan promptly latched on to the controversy, saying that "we were accused by the Congress of indulging in money bag politics. But the audio clip is a glowing evidence about who is actually indulging in such politics of enticement." ENS

Rail roko hits Punjab hard, 2 of 3 power plants closed

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

PUNJAB is facing a severe power crisis as two of the three private thermal power plants have stopped operations due to the rail roko agitation that has cut off the supply of coal.

Sources said that power generation at the 1,400 MW Nabha Power Limited at Rajpura came to a halt on Thursday. The plant had got eight rakes of coal after agitating farmers decided to allow good trains to operate on October 22. The movement again stopped on October 24.

Some 700 rakes of coal are stranded in different parts of the country due to the agitation.

The Talwandi Sabo plant has already exhausted its coal stock. Worse, the 540-MW power plant at Goindwal Sahib has stock for only a couple of days.

While the state owned Rupnagar and Lehra thermal plants are left with about five-day stock, they are currently shut as they too need stocks to meet any emergency requirement.

Punjab is buying power from the central grid. As against the demand of 1,100 lakh units of power, 200 lakh units were purchased from the national grid by the Punjab State Power Corporation Limited.

Probe into alleged corruption in Rajaji reserve

The Uttarakhand forest department has started an inquiry into alleged financial irregularities in the Rajaji Tiger Reserve during last five years. Jai Raj, principal chief conservator of forests, Uttarakhand forest department, said the inquiry was ordered last week. A four-member probe committee, which was formed to look into the allegations, will submit its report within two months. The inquiry was ordered following complaints in 2018 by three stakeholders. An earlier probe had found irregularities in the Motichur range of Rajaji reserve. The report in the matter was submitted in March 2019 which stated that there were financial irregularities in the range, especially with regard to approving receipts without scrutiny, removal of Lantana grass, food receipts of patrolling staff and so on.

Trekking clusters to come up in villages

The tourism department has decided to develop villages near important trekking routes and sites as 'trekking clusters'. The project will kick off from Chopta village near Tungnath shrine, the world's highest temple dedicated to Lord Shiva. Dilip Jawalkar, secretary for tourism, said that Chopta will be developed as a camping destination and proposals will be taken from the district magistrate and divisional forest officer for this. Under this scheme, the government will provide financial assistance of ₹60,000 per room for building new rooms in their houses for home-stay and ₹25,000 for constructing new toilets with the rooms.

No homework for students: Officials

The education department has decided to not give homework to the students of the government-run schools for a period of three weeks, starting from November 2. Students will go through the revision of the lessons taught to them during the lockdown period for two-three weeks, said officials. Online education will be encouraged among the students and their parents during this period too. The education department is also going to run a 'Back to the School' campaign in order to reconnect the students who got drifted away from studies due to coronavirus-induced lockdown.

BBC unveils social media guidelines

LONDON

THE BBC on Thursday unveiled new impartiality guidelines after accusations that journalists and other staff have undermined its credibility via their social media accounts or by accepting lucrative offers to give outside speeches.

Staff, contractors and freelancers could face dismissal for "serious" breaches of the guidelines. "Impartiality is the foundation on which we deliver insightful, exciting and ground-breaking stories," new director-general Tim Davie said.

US economy surges 33 per cent in Q3, biggest gain since 1947

WASHINGTON

AFTER the worst downturn on record, the US economy posted a jaw-dropping annual rate of growth of 33.1 per cent in the third quarter, the Commerce Department reported on Thursday.

The massive gain—the biggest since record-keeping started in 1947—was driven by a surge in spending by consumers and businesses.

It came after a 31.4 per cent drop in the April-June period during the worst of the Covid-19 pandemic, and a five percent drop in the first quarter. The annual rate is a measure that shows the full-year result if the gain in a single quarter were translated over 12 months.

However, compared to the July-September stretch of 2019, the third quarter contracted 2.9 per cent after falling 9.0 per cent year-over-year in the second quarter, according to the data, the first estimate of the results in the latest three months.

"The increase in third quarter GDP reflected continued efforts to reopen businesses and resume activities that were postponed or restricted due to Covid-19," the Commerce Department said in the release. It noted, however, that the "full economic effects" of the coronavirus cannot be separately measured.

The massive gain—the biggest since record-keeping started in 1947—was driven by a surge in spending by consumers and businesses.

But economists warn that much of that was fueled by the massive $3 trillion in government aid that flooded the economy in the early weeks of the pandemic.

Much of that funding to jobless workers and businesses has run out, and other data show spending tapered off in September and the recovery is losing momentum.

And the gain in the latest quarter was offset by a drop in government spending: federal government spending dropped 6.2 per cent and state and local government fell 3.3 per cent. Meanwhile, the weekly tally of new applications for jobless benefits are only slowly coming down, dropping 40,000 to 7,51,000 in the week ended October 24, according to Labor Department figures released on Thursday.

Facing a tough battle to hold on to the White House in the November 3 election, Trump seized on the data from the Commerce Department as proof the recovery he promised from the Covid-19 pandemic is underway. AFP

FRANCE LAUNCHES ANTI-TERROR PROBE, HEIGHTENS ALERT

Thursday's was third attack since trial of Charlie Hebdo suspects opened last month

NICE

FRENCH anti-terrorism prosecutor's office opened an investigation into the knife attack that killed three people inside a church on Thursday in the Mediterranean city of Nice.

It was the third attack in France since a trial opened in September for people linked to the 2015 attacks at Charlie Hebdo and a kosher supermarket by gunmen who claimed allegiance to the Islamic State group and al-Qaida.

The trial is nearing its end, with a verdict planned for November 13, the fifth anniversary of another series of deadly Islamic State attacks in Paris.

Thursday's attacker was believed to be acting alone and police are not searching for other assailants, said two police officials, who were not authorised to be publicly named.

"With the attack against (teacher) Samual Paty, it was freedom of speech that was targeted. With this attack in Nice, it is freedom of religion," Prime Minister Jean Castex told lawmakers on Thursday.

Earlier, the lower house of parliament suspended a debate on France's new virus restrictions and held a moment of silence for the victims. Castex rushed from the hall to a crisis center overseeing the aftermath of the Nice attack and later returned to announce the alert level increase. French President Emmanuel Macron, who has defended Charlie Hebdo's right to publish the caricatures, arrived in Nice later in the day.

Muslims have held protests in several countries and called for a boycott of French goods in response to France's stance on caricatures of Islam's most revered prophet, whose birthday was marked in several countries Thursday.

Many groups and nations issued their condolences on Thursday, standing firmly with France. The French Council of the Muslim Faith condemned the Nice attack and called on French Muslims to refrain from festivities this week marking the birth of Muhammad "as a sign of mourning and in solidarity with the victims and their loved ones."

German Chancellor Angela Merkel said, "I am deeply shaken by the brutal murders in the church in Nice."

Nice was not France's only trouble spot on Thursday.

In Avignon, an armed man was shot to death by police after he refused to drop his weapon and a flash-ball shot failed to stop him, one police official said. In Saudi Arbia, a man stabbed a guard at the French consulate in Jiddah. "The assailant was apprehended by Saudi security forces immediately after the attack. The guard was taken to hospital and is not in danger," officials said. AP

Soldiers, fire-fighters turn medics amid staff crunch

KYJOV

SOLDIERS in Poland are giving coronavirus tests. American National Guard troops with medical training are headed to the Czech Republic to work alongside doctors there. A Czech university student is running blood samples to labs, and the mayor of the capital is taking shifts at a hospital.

With cases surging in many central European countries, firefighters, students and retired doctors are being asked to help.

"This is actually terrifying," Dr. Piotr Suwalski, the head of the cardiac surgery ward at a Polish hospital said on a day when daily Covid-19 cases rose 20% nationwide. "I think if we continue to gain 20% a day, no system can withstand it."

Even before the pandemic, many countries in the region faced a shortage of medical personnel due to years of underfunding in their public health sectors and an exodus of doctors and nurses to better paying jobs in Western Europe. Now, with the virus ripping through their hospitals, many health workers have been sickened, compounding the shortfall. AFP

UK's Labour Party suspends Jeremy Corbyn

London: The UK's Opposition Labour Party on Thursday suspended former leader Jeremy Corbyn after a report by the country's human rights watchdog held the party "responsible for unlawful acts during his time in charge. The Equality and Human Rights Commission, which had launched an investigation into antisemitism within the party, found that Labour had broken the law in its failure to handle antisemitism.

Mahathir says Muslims have right to kill, draws ire

Kuala Lumpur: Malaysia's former leader Mahathir Mohamad tweeted on Thursday that Muslims had a right "to kill millions of French people", sparking widespread anger and prompting Twitter to delete his post. "Irrespective of the religion professed, angry people kill," tweeted the outspoken 95-year-old. "The French in the course of their history has killed millions of people. Many were Muslims. Muslims have a right to be angry and to kill millions of French people," he tweeted

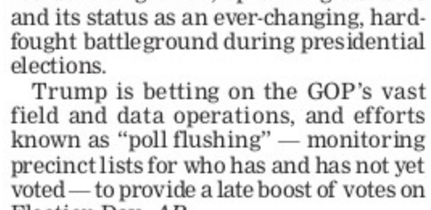
TRUMP, BIDEN BATTLE IT OUT IN FLORIDA



Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden waves at reporters before boarding his flight from New Castle, Delaware to Florida on Wednesday | AFP

TAMPA

US President Donald Trump and Democratic rival Joe Biden were chasing votes on Thursday in Florida, a state all but essential to the Republican's pathway to another term, as both nominees turn their focus to encouraging voters to turn out in person on Election Day.

More than 73 million Americans have already voted, absentee or by mail, and Trump and Biden are trying to energize the millions more who will vote on Tuesday. While the Election Day vote traditionally favors Republicans and early votes tend toward Democrats, the coronavirus pandemic, which has killed more than 227,000 people in the United States, has injected new uncertainty.

Trump and Biden will appear in Tampa hours apart on Thursday. They're visiting the western end of the state's Interstate 4 corridor, an area known for rapid residential growth, sprawling suburbs and its status as an ever-changing, hard-fought battleground during presidential elections.

Trump is betting on the GOP's vast field and data operations, and efforts known as "poll flushing" — monitoring precinct lists for who has and has not yet voted — to provide a late boost of votes on Election Day. AP

Tough fight for electoral votes

The 74-year-old Donald Trump has several potential routes to victory, and the most likely ones wind through the battleground states of Florida and Pennsylvania

US President Donald Trump dances as he leaves a campaign event in in Bullhead City, Arizona | AFP

THE PATH TO 270 VOTES

According to the polls and the pundits, Trump is virtually assured of winning 163 electoral votes from the solidly Republican states that voted for him last time

Biden looks poised to scoop up at least 260 electoral votes including two states that Trump won last time—Michigan and Wisconsin

But, Trump can afford to lose those two midwestern states and still carve out a victory on November 3

If Trump loses Wisconsin and Michigan, but wins all the other states he won in 2016, including Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Arizona and Florida, he gets the required 270 electoral votes, said Capri Cafaro, a former member of the Ohio state senate

Core sector output continues to fall, but at a slower pace

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA's core infrastructure sector continued to contract for seven month in a row but the pace of contraction narrowed down to 0.8 per cent. In September 2019, the production of eight core sectors had contracted by 5.1 per cent.

Data released by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry on Thursday revealed that improvements were seen in the coal sector, (21.2 per cent), steel (0.9 per cent) and electricity (3.7 per cent), all registering positive growth indicating signs of uneven revival. However, production of crude oil, natural gas, refinery products and cement continued to fall, which dragged down the overall index. Crude Oil production declined by six per cent in September, Natural Gas production declined by10.6 per cent and Petroleum Refinery production declined by 9.5 per cent in September. Fertilizers and Cement production also contracted by 10.6 per cent and 3.5 per cent, respectively.

Infrastructure output, which comprises eight sectors including coal, crude oil and electricity and accounts for nearly 40 per cent of industrial output. For the period of April to September, the core sector contracted by 14.9 per cent, the data showed. In 2019, the core sectors had registered a growth of 1.3 per cent in the same period.

Fall in crude oil production in September

According to ICRA principal economist Aditi Nayar, IIP may show a moderate growth rate in September with the shrinking of the contraction of the core sector output. However, it must be taken with a note of caution. "While many lead indicators have displayed signals of a strengthening economic recovery in September 2020, we caution that the sustainability of the upturn may not be universal, and await signs of its durability," Nayar added.

Similarly, the expansion in coal production is also unlikely to sustain at this robust pace beyond the current month.

SP Group lists separation demands

Seeks pro-rata division of all Tata Sons listed assets, brands based on its 18.37% stake

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Shapoorji Pallonji Group (SP) on Thursday formally sought separation from Tata Group in the Supreme Court. The SP Group, in its filing, has sought a pro-rata division of all Tata Sons assets based on its 18.37 per cent stake in the holding company of the Tata conglomerate. The Group said that the value of its stake in Tata Sons is more than ₹1.75 lakh crore. It has 13.22 per cent shareholding valued at ₹1.35 lakh crore in Tata Consultancy Services (TCS).

"Disputes over valuation can be eliminated by doing a pro-rata split of listed assets (share price value is known) and pro-rata share of the Brand (Brand valuation already done by Tata and published). A neutral third-party valuation can be done for the unlisted assets adjusted for net debt (i.e. debt less cash)," SP Group said in its filing. "As a non-cash settlement, SP Group will be given pro-rata shares in the listed entity(ies) of the Tata Group where Tata Sons currently owns stake... For example, 72% of TCS is owned by Tata Sons. SP Group's ownership of 18.37% translates to 13.22% shareholding of TCS (valued at ~ ₹1,35,000 crore at present market capitalisation of TCS."

The Supreme Court is hearing the corporate tussle between the two conglomerates that began after the Tatas sacked Cyrus Mistry as the Chairman of the Group in October 2016. Tata Group on October 15 said that it did not receive any formal request or proposal from the Shapoorji Pallonji Group to separate itself from the Tata Group. SP Group on September 22 had told the Supreme Court that it is ready to sell its stake in Tata after being together for over 70 years. SP Group said pro-rata separation of assets and liabilities would be a fair and equitable solution to all stakeholders and a largely non-cash settlement would ease pressure on Tata to raise a large quantum of debt. According to SP Group, Tata Sons would continue to have control over the underlying assets (and >51% stake in TCS) if they go ahead with their proposed scheme.

SP Group added that the same scheme could also be applied to Tata group companies that have shareholding in Tata Sons to provide them with liquid assets in lieu of their shares, and bolster their net worth by over ₹1 lakh crore.

ACC

ACC trades at a 35–60% valuation discount to peers Shree, UltraTech, and Ramco. We believe such a large discount is excessive as: (a) ACC has arrested its market share losses since CY17, (b) its net cash balance sheet (18% of market cap) renders it well-placed to withstand any extended disruption from COVID-19, and (c) with planned capacity expansions in CY22.

Centre's fiscal deficit shoots up to 115% in Apr-Sept as revenue shrink steadily

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government's fiscal deficit for the first six months of the year shot up to 114.8 per cent of the budget estimate on the back of a huge drop in revenue collections.

Monthly accounts statistics released by the Controller General of Accounts shows revenue collections in the April-September remained poor at ₹5.65 lakh crore or just 25.2 per cent of the annual budget estimates, while expenditure stood at ₹14.79 lakh crore or 48.6 per cent of the budget estimates (BE). The revenue collections were 41.6 per cent of the collections in the same period last year, reflecting the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic on the economy.

"The fiscal deficit which stood at ₹9.14 lakh crore is extremely high. Though the Government has already increased its borrowing programme to a record ₹12 lakh crore. If revenue collection trends remain muted through the rest of the year, we may end up borrowing more," said Finance Ministry officials.

The fiscal deficit for the year had been pegged at ₹7.96 lakh crore or 3.5 per cent of the GDP in the Budget.

The Government collected about ₹4.58 lakh crore as tax revenues (net to Centre) which was 28 per cent of BE and 36.8 per cent of collections in the same period last year. Non-tax revenues which include disinvestment receipts too were hit by the pandemic and stood at ₹92,274 crore, or 24 per cent of BE. The government also collected ₹14,635 crore as non-debt capital receipts, which included recovery of loans.

The record mid-year deficit was despite attempts by the government to curb unnecessary expenditure through a string of fiats.

P&G to set up ₹400 cr India Growth Fund to help suppliers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PROCTER & Gamble (P&G) plans to set up a ₹400-crore India Growth Fund to collaborate with existing and new suppliers to build capacities that will further localise manufacturing of finished products, procurement of raw materials and packaging materials, and adopt go-to-market innovations and technology. The new fund is part of P&G India's 'vGROW' programme that focuses on identifying and collaborating with startups, small businesses, individuals or large organisations offering solutions for the fast-moving consumer goods industry, P&G said.

More than 95 per cent of the products the company sells in India are manufactured locally. It also exports finished products manufactured in India to more than 120 countries. Through the fund, the company will further promote localised manufacturing and sourcing of goods in the country. This is in line with the government's vision of a self-reliant India and P&G's commitment to drive inclusive growth in India through external partnerships, the company said in a statement.

"P&G has been making in India for decades and we are committed to the vision of a self-reliant India. In line with our commitment, we are setting-up P&G's 'India Growth Fund' to collaborate with partners on building capacities," said Madhusudan Gopalan, CEO, P&G Indian Subcontinent.

The company had launched vGROW three years ago with a vision to create an active partnership platform for suppliers across the country. In the first two years, P&G also set up the 'Innovation Fund' and 'Sustainability Fund' through which it has invested more than ₹250 crore.

Cognizant to give bigger hikes, bonuses in Q4

New Delhi: Cognizant on Thursday said it has begun targeted merit-based increases and promotions from October 1. In a post-earnings call, CEO Brian Humphries told analysts that the hikes in 2020 will be higher than the previous year and may impact the cost-structure of the company for the remaining part of the year. The company, which has an employee base of over two lakh in India, said the model is based on skills, relative contribution and qualities needed to lead transformation and future growth. Its headcount stood at 2.83 lakh. Total attrition was 18 per cent, while voluntary attrition was at 10 per cent.

Inventory gains push BPCL profit up 58%

New Delhi: Oil marketing company (OMC) BPCL on Thursday declared a 58 per cent increase in its net profit for the second quarter (Q2 FY21). The company posted a net profit of ₹2,589.52 crore during the quarter, compared to ₹1,502.63 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The rise was driven primarily by a substantial inventory gain of ₹2,503 crore due to the extremely low prices at which the company had managed to buy crude oil over the summer. It made $5.8 on turning every barrel of crude oil into fuel (gross refining margin) compared to $3.38 per barrel the last quarter.

DPIIT releases quality control norms for leather footwear

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a move to contain cheap leather footwear imports, the government said that no leather products can be produced, sold, traded, imported or even stocked, unless they bear the BIS mark. According to a latest notification from the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), all leather shoes would have to conform to the specified standards and bear the standard mark under a licence from the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS).

The order has come into force from October 27 this year. "The BIS shall be the certifying and enforcement authority for the goods," according to the notification. Products included in the order are leather safety boots and shoes, canvas shoes, rubber sole, sports footwear and derby shoes.

However, it added that the order— the footwear made from leather and other materials (Quality Control) Order, 2020 — shall not apply to goods or articles meant for export purpose. DPIIT has also released the quality control order for footwear made from all-rubber and polymeric material and its components.

These goods include industrial and protective rubber knee and ankle boots; PVC sandal; rubber hawai chappal; rubber microcellular sheets, among others. The move comes at a time when the government is working to formulate technical regulations, which include safety and quality standards, for over 350 products with a view to cut imports of those non-essential items.

Footwear included in the order, according to DPIIT

Products included in Footwear made from leather and other materials (Quality Control) Order, 2020 include leather safety boots, canvas shoes rubber sole, sports footwear and derby shoes.

Cabinet hikes prices of ethanol procured for fuel

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a move to provide relief to the sugar sector, which has been affected by a persistent glut in the sugar market, the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) approved hiking the prices of ethanol extracted from sugarcane. This ethanol is procured by state-run oil marketing companies under the Centre's Ethanol Blended Petrol (EBP) Programme and the higher prices will help the sugar industry pay their dues to sugarcane farmers.

The Centre has begun setting different prices for different varieties of ethanol since 2018, and prices have been hiked for all: from ₹54.27 per litre to ₹57.61 for B heavy molasses ethanol; from ₹43.75 per litre to ₹45.69 for C heavy molasses; and from ₹59.48 per litre to ₹62.65 for ethanol from sugarcane juice. The CCEA has also advised OMCs to fix realistic transportation charges to ensure that long distance transportation of ethanol is not disincentivised. "Remunerative price to ethanol suppliers will help in reduction of cane farmer's arrears," the CCEA's statement said.

VODAFONE IDEA POSTS LOSS AT ₹7,218 CR, REVENUE DIPS ON SUBSCRIBER LOSSES

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM major Vodafone Idea saw its losses contract both on a quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year basis during the second quarter (Q2FY21), while total revenues dipped slightly compared to the previous year and recorded a 1.2 per cent rise from Q1FY21. While there were no extra provisions towards AGR liabilities during the quarter, the telco continued to lose subscribers and its average revenue per user (ARPU) has risen marginally.

According to the company, its consolidated net loss during the quarter stood at ₹7,218.2 crore, against a loss of ₹50,922 crore in Q2 of the previous year and a loss of ₹25,460 crore in Q1 of the current fiscal. Revenues were marginally lower at ₹10,791.2 crore compared to ₹10,844 crore the previous year. However, the rise in economic activity post lockdowns helped boost revenue slightly higher than the ₹10,659.3 crore recorded in the previous quarter.

"While we continue to face Covid-19 induced challenges, Q2FY21 showed signs of recovery with a gradual improvement in economic activities. We are executing on our strategy and our cost optimisation exercise has already started to yield incremental savings. We have also initiated a fund raising exercise to support our strategic intent," said Ravinder Takkar, MD & CEO, Vodafone Idea Limited. As for key metrics such as ARPU and subscriber base, VIL has fared worse than rivals Bharti Airtel and Reliance Jio. It bled subscribers during the quarter, though at a slower rate.

Urban PV demand to remain under pressure, says Maruti

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) expects demand for passenger vehicles at urban centres to remain under pressure. "Going ahead, we don't see strong demand at urban centres. Not that they don't want the car but they can't afford it," MSIL chairman RC Bhargava said on Thursday. According to him, rural demand will, however, remain robust because of good monsoon.

Urban India has been hit primarily by the Covid-19 led economic slowdown. Job losses and salary cuts have significantly reduced the purchasing power of urban masses and uncertainty around recovery has deferred their present spending. Adding to that, India's GDP is expected to fall as much as 10 per cent this fiscal.

Bhargava said the government can look at stimulating demand once the current momentum fades. He added there is no need for an immediate cut in GST rate even as two-wheeler makers want it to be slashed by 10 per cent.

MSIL on Thursday reported one per cent year-on-year growth in Q2 FY21 standalone profit to ₹1,371.6 crore.

BANK OF BARODA BACK IN THE BLACK

New Delhi: State-owned Bank of Baroda on Thursday reported a standalone net profit of ₹1,678.6 crore for July-September quarter (Q2FY21) on the back of lower provisons. In the previous quarter of the current fiscal (Q1FY21), the lender had incurred a loss worth ₹864.26 crore. On a yearly basis, PAT grew 128 per cent from ₹736.6 crore. On a consolidated basis, profit was ₹1,771.22 crore for Q2FY21, as against a net loss of ₹678.71 crore in the June quarter. In the year-ago period, however, consolidated net profit stood at ₹853.41 crore. Net interest income (NII) came in at ₹7,507.53 crore for the quarter under review, rising marginally from ₹7,028 crore income earned in Q2FY20. Global advances rose by 5.3% led by domestic organic retail and agriculture loans which grew by 16.81% and 16.52%.

Indigo Q2 loss widens to ₹1,195 cr, number of flights double sequentially

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AIRLINE company InterGlobe Aviation (IndiGo) on Thursday said its loss widened to ₹1,194.8 crore in the second quarter of the current fiscal (Q2FY21), higher than the loss of ₹1,062 crore posted in the corresponding quarter of the previous financial year due to the Covid-19 led disruptions. Sequentially, the loss more than halved as the number of flights grew nearly two-fold over the April-June quarter. Net loss narrowed from ₹2,845 crore in the June quarter.

Revenue fell 65 per cent on year to ₹3,029 crore but rose 2.6 times over the previous quarter. As operations remained shut, the airline's total expenses fell 55.9 per cent YoY to ₹4,224.1 crore in Q2FY21 from Rs 9,571.6 crore in Q2FY20. Total debt increased 28.1 per cent YoY to ₹25,419.4 crore. It had a total cash balance of ₹17,931 crore, a slight reduction from ₹18,449.8 crore in the first quarter. EBITDA, or earnings before interest, tax, depreciation, amortisation and rent, came at 408.5 crore, up 59.3 per cent year-on-year.

Feeling good, says Kapil Dev in video

A week after undergoing angioplasty, the legendary Kapil Dev on Thursday said he is "feeling very good" and is eager to meet his 1983 World Cup teammates in a video. The former India skipper underwent the procedure after suffering a heart attack.

Ruturaj dents Kolkata's hopes

DUBAI: Kolkata Knight Riders hopes of qualifying for the IPL play-offs suffered a big blow as they lost to Chennai Super Kings. Set a target of 173, the Super Kings chased down the total of the last ball. Ruturaj Gaekwad top-scored for Chennai with 72. For KKR, Nitish Rana scored 87.

Brief scores: KKR 172/5 in 20 ovs (Rana 87; Ngidi 2/34) lost CSK to 178/4 in 20 ovs (Ruturaj 72, Jadeja 31 n.o).

A MUST-WIN

After 49 matches in the league phase, six teams are competing for three spots in the play-offs. On Friday, the in-form Kings XI Punjab meet an inconsistent Rajasthan Royals in Abu Dhabi. Talking points...

REMARKABLE TURNAROUND

Having lost six of the first seven matches, Punjab bounced back to win five matches in a row. Fourth on the table, they are well on course for play-offs. Remaining two games will be crucial for them to cement their berth.

CHANCES BLEAK FOR RR

Placed second last in the standings with 10 points, Rajasthan's chances of qualifying are slim. They need to beat Punjab and Kolkata in their last two games and hope other results go their way.

NOT QUITE AN ONLINE CHESS GUY

Impressed with Indian youngsters, Anand misses the feel of being in a tournament

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

CHESS legend Viswanathan Anand is happy spending quality time with family. He is pleased that youngsters from the country are doing well. In an exclusive chat, the five-time world champion says he enjoys spending time and playing with youngsters. Excerpts...

How was the experience of playing with youngsters like Praggnanandha, Nihal Sarin and Divya Deshmukh in the Online Chess Olympiad won jointly by India?
Enjoyed playing with them even though we were all in different locations. We had enjoyable team meetings and the camaraderie was good. Of course, we feel rewarded at the end.

Does spending time with family compensate for not playing tournaments?
I don't really compare the two. This year has been unusual. We are all getting used to a new reality. I certainly enjoyed spending so much time at home with the family.

Why does online chess doesn't excite you?
I haven't got too excited about it. Don't know the real reason. Maybe the sheer lack of the sense of something real starting before it starts. In a tournament, you leave the hotel room, go to the tournament hall and see the other players. You slowly get the sense that there is a competition. It is very hard sitting at home and switching into tournament mode.

On Jan-Krzysztof Duda ending Magnus Carlsen's 125-game unbeaten run...
Jan-Krzysztof is one of the most talented youngsters around. His victory against Magnus didn't surprise me. The game was back and forth. That's typical these days. It shows principally he was correct. He was not having a good tournament, but he never backed down and fought in every game and tried his best. Beating Magnus was a good reward.

On your team OSG Baden-Baden winning the Bundesliga (German league) title...
It was a pity I couldn't join my team. It was just impractical to get to Germany. I am very happy that my team won convincingly. In the final round-robin in Karlsruhe, Baden-Baden dominated.

On Candidates getting postponed...
It has been a strange year. Candidates getting postponed (to 2021) was inevitable. All plans break down. The optimistic assessments about our fight with Covid is not assured. There will be more surprises.

On Nihal Sarin winning Junior Speed Chess title.
I'm happy. We always knew he was a bit of a speed chess specialist. I think this gives him the necessary confidence going into the Speed Chess Championship main event.

THE RED ANGEL...

Catalans enjoy a good night while Marcus Rashford scores a hat-trick for Manchester United. Talking points from Wednesday's Champions League action...

Barca down Juventus
If this was a test of their European credentials, Barcelona came out of it in flying colours. It wasn't the greatest performance at Turin but beating Juventus is no joke. The challenge is to build on this.

Lampard & Co look good
With Roman Abramovich watching on, Chelsea gave one of the most polished away performances in Europe. Their forward line produced an exercise in clinical finishing.

Five-star United
A sensational treble from Marcus Rashford helped the English giants to a big 5-0 win over crafty RB Leipzig. If this is the sign of things to come, Ole Gunnar Soljskaer can feel confident.

RESULTS

Group E: Krasnodar 0-4 Chelsea, Sevilla 1-0 Rennes.
Group F: Club Brugge 1-1 Lazio, Borussia Dortmund 2-0 Zenit Saint Petersburg.
Group G: Ferencvaros 2-2 Dynamo Kiev, Juventus 0-2 Barcelona.
Group H: Istanbul Basaksehir 0-2 Paris Saint-Germain, Manchester United 5-0 RB Leipzig.

SAI to foot bills of shuttler duo

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

THE Sports Authority of India (SAI) has decided to step in to cover the expenses of Ajay Jayaram and Subhankar Dey during their forced quarantine in Germany. "The SAI will pay for the expenses that are going to be incurred by two badminton players, Ajay Jayaram and Subhankar Dey, for the length of their quarantine in Germany from October 30 to November 10, on humanitarian grounds," a SAI release said.

"SAI will be paying a total of ₹1.46 lakh for their hotel stay and food expenses and will release 90 per cent of the amount immediately."

They were forced to pull out of the SaarlorLux Open, a World Tour Super 100 meet, in Saarbrucken, roughly 185 kms from Frankfurt, on Wednesday. They had come in contact 'with a member of their team entourage who tested positive for Covid-19', according to a BWF press release. The member in question was DK Sen, Lakshya's father. The former junior World No 1 had already been scratched from the event.

As a consequence, both Jayaram and Dey will be in quarantine till November 10. It's likely that Jayaram and Dey were asked to quarantine because they had taken part in a training session where Sen was present before his Covid-19 test result was out.

Why does that matter? Dey and Jayaram claim that the organisers had allowed Sen's entourage to be inside the premises without asking for their Covid-19 negative certificates. "We are on our own and have spent so much to come all the way here. Moreover, if the organisers had followed the process of checking, this could have been avoided. Lakshya and Co came (to Saarbrucken) and then went back for testing (to Frankfurt). We could have kept distance had the process of checking on arrival been implemented," Dey told this daily from Germany. Subhankar and Jayaram were thankful to the Indian authorities for quick resolution of the issue.

Jr camper Covid +ve

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

AN Indian junior hockey player has tested positive for Covid-19. The midfielder, along with other junior players, had reached the SAI centre in Bengaluru on Sunday for a camp. Around 36 players were tested on arrival. Results came on Wednesday, showing one was positive. He was shifted to SD Sparsh Multispeciality Hospital. "We had directed them to have tests and come here. The problem with this batch of players was some of them had done antibody tests and not the RT-PCR test. So we tested everyone and there was one positive result," said a SAI source.

THE WAY TO GET STARTED IS TO QUIT TALKING AND BEGIN DOING › WALT DISNEY

SpaceX's second astronaut flight is off until mid-November because red lacquer dripped into tiny vent holes in two rocket engines that now must be replaced, officials have announced.

A vast majority of individuals with Covid 19 mount a "robust" defence via antibodies that is relatively stable for at least five months, as per to a new study published in the journal Science.

DOGS AS ACCURATE AS PCR TESTS?

Helsinki University researchers say the initial findings from dog trials appear broadly in line with detection rates of the nasal PCR tests also conducted on arriving travellers molecules are what dogs need to detect the presence of the virus in lab samples, Helsinki's airport said. In contrast, lab equipment needs 18 million

10-100

EXFILE

Initial results from Covid sniffer dog trial promising

A pilot project using sniffer dogs to provide instant and pain-free coronavirus testing at Helsinki airport has shown promising early results and proven popular with travellers, researchers said

Five days earlier

Preliminary experiments in the first major wave of infections earlier in the year suggested that the dogs can detect the novel coronavirus with close to 100 per cent accuracy, up to five days earlier than a PCR test

SCIENCE

HOW THE TESTS WORK

1. The sniff-test involves wiping a swab onto the skin that is then put in front of the dog, who will quickly pass over a negative sample but will be attracted to a positive one

2. Scientists are not completely sure how the dogs detect the virus, but it is possible that the sweat odour of people with Covid-19 may be markedly different to dog noses

2.2K PASSENGERS'S SAMPLES HAVE BEEN SNIFFED BY KOSSI, ET & MIINA

0.6% OF TRAVELLERS WERE FOUND TO HAVE THE VIRUS

OTHER DISEASES

Dogs have been successfully used to detect cancers, Parkinson's disease and bacterial infections using samples taken from humans

We have done 16,000-17,000 PCR tests at the airport and less than one percent are positive. [Compared to the results found by the dogs,] they are about the same, I don't think there is a statistical difference

Timo Aronkyto, deputy mayor of Vantaa, a city in Finland

SNIFFER-DOGS NOT USED IN MOST COUNTRIES

Although sniffer dog trials have been undertaken elsewhere, such as in the UAE, France, Ruussia and Chile, use of canine scent-detectors to bolster virus testing has not yet been widely adopted, in part because of a lack of peer-reviewed literature

Human bodies now cooler than before in Americas, UK

Recent study in Bolivian Amazon echoes prior research in US & UK on decline in body temperature due possibly to improved hygiene

SCIENCE

Children of the Tsimane foragers look out over the Maniqui River | MICHAEL GURVEN

LOS ANGELES: While the normal human body temperature has long been considered to be 37 degrees Celsius, scientists have found evidence that it may go down to even about 36.5 degrees Celsius, based on a long-term study of forager-farmers.

According to the study, published in the journal Science Advances, the Tsimane -- an indigenous population of forager-horticulturists in the Bolivian Amazon -- exhibited higher body temperature (BT) when first examined in the early 21st century which subsequently declined by nearly 0.05 units annually over 16 years of socio-economic change to about 36.5 degrees Celsius by 2018.

"In less than two decades we're seeing about the same level of decline as that observed in the US over approximately two centuries," said Michael Gurven, a co-author of the study from the University of California Santa Barbara.

In the research, the scientists assessed a large sample of 18,000 observations of almost 5,500 adults, and adjusted for multiple other factors that might affect body temperature, such as ambient temperature and body mass.

While previous research, such as ones conducted in Palo Alto in the US and among 35,000 adults in the UK had found the average body temperature to be lower than observed in the previous century, the scientists said these studies could not explain the reason for the decline.

"The provocative study showing declines in normal body temperature in the US since the time of the Civil War was conducted in a single population and couldn't explain why the decline happened," said Gurven.

"One leading hypothesis is that we've experienced fewer infections over time due to improved hygiene, clean water, vaccinations and medical treatment. In our study, we were able to test that idea directly. We have information on clinical diagnoses and biomarkers of infection and inflammation at the time each patient was seen."

While some infections were associated with higher body temperature, Gruven said adjusting for these did not account for the steep decline in body temperature over time.

In less than two decades we're seeing about the same level of decline as that observed in the US over approximately two centuries

Michael Gurven, co-author of the study

"And we used the same type of thermometer for most of the study, so it's not due to changes in instrumentation," he said.

The scientists believe the declines might be due to the rise of modern health care and lower rates of lingering mild infections now as compared to the past. "But while health has generally improved over the past two decades, infections are still widespread in rural Bolivia. Our results suggest that reduced infection alone can't explain the observed body temperature declines," Gruven said. "It could be that people are in better condition, so their bodies might be working less to fight infection," he added.

Another possibility for the decline could be due to greater access to antibiotics and other drugs which reduce the duration of infection than in the past. "We found that having a respiratory infection in the early period of the study led to having a higher body temperature than having the same respiratory infection more recently."

Book shortlisted for UK prize

HISTORY

British-Indian journalist and author Anita Anand's book that tells the story of a young man caught up in the 1919 Jallianwala Bagh massacre in Amritsar has been shortlisted for a prestigious history-literary prize in the UK. The Patient Assassin: A True Tale of Massacre, Revenge and the Raj will compete with six others for the PEN Hessell-Tiltman Prize for History 2020, awarded annually for a non-fiction book of specifically historical content. In the book, Anand tells the story of an orphan Udham Singh's 21-year quest for revenge, taking him around the world in search of those he held responsible for the Raj-era Amritsar massacre.

A 'Jurassic Park' for komodo dragons

CONSERVATION

JAKARTA: Indonesian conservationists have slammed plans to turn the home of endangered Komodo dragons into a Jurassic Park-style attraction, after a viral photo showing one of the giant reptiles sparked an online backlash over the development.

Nearly 3,000 of the world's biggest lizard species live on a cluster of islands east of Bali, where they grow to 10 feet in length and weigh 90 kg.

Authorities last month unveiled a proposal to build a tourist development on one of the islands, dubbed "Jurassic Park" after architects published a promotional video of the project set to music from the film franchise. But environmentalists warned then that it would threaten the already at-risk species.

This week a picture of a Komodo dragon in the path of a truck carrying construction supplies renewed debate over the project, after it was shared widely online. "The idea to build a Jurassic Park is honestly embarrassing," said Gregorius Afioma, an activist.

Iceland organises tour to glacier

CLIMATE

Instead of a slow slog on snowshoes, a giant bus sweeps passengers at up to 60 kilometres an hour across Iceland's second largest glacier, which scientists predict will likely be nearly gone by the end of the century. The red glacier mega bus is 50 foot long and fitted with massive tyres for traction across the powder snow of western Iceland's vast Langjokull ice cap. The glacier formed around 2,500 years ago and, with melting and refreezing, glaciologists believe the oldest ice of the glacier to be 500 years old. From its highest point, at about 1,450 metres, the spectacular view takes in other snow covered peaks.

Human encroachment on nature will cause more pandemics

NEW DELHI: Future pandemics will emerge more often, spread more rapidly, do more damage to the world economy and kill more people than COVID-19 unless there is a transformative change in the global approach to dealing with infectious diseases, warns a major new report on biodiversity and pandemics by 22 leading experts from around the world.

Convened by the Intergovernmental Science-Policy Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES) for an urgent virtual workshop about the links between degradation of nature and increasing pandemic risks, the experts agree that escaping the era of pandemics is possible, but that this will require a seismic shift in approach from reaction to prevention.

COVID-19 is at least the sixth global health pandemic since the Great Influenza Pandemic of 1918, and although it has its origins in microbes carried by animals, like all pandemics its emergence has been entirely driven by human activities, said the report on Thursday.

It is estimated that another 1.7 million currently 'undiscovered' viruses exist in mammals and birds - of which up to 850,000 could have the ability to infect people.

"There is no great mystery about the cause of the COVID-19 pandemic - or of any modern pandemic", said Dr. Peter Daszak, President of EcoHealth Alliance and Chair of the IPBES workshop.

"The same human activities that drive climate change and biodiversity loss also drive pandemic risk through their impacts on our environment. Changes in the way we use land; the expansion and intensification of agriculture; and unsustainable trade, production and consumption disrupt nature and increase contact between wildlife, livestock, pathogens and people. This is the path to pandemics."

Pandemic risk can be significantly lowered by reducing the human activities that drive the loss of biodiversity, says the report. ENS
